Health Board Raises Salary of Sanitary Policeman From $50 to $65 a Month.

THE NEW GARBAGE FURNACE

Inspected by the Board and a Lengthy Discussion of the Problem Follows.

COMPLAINT ABOUT DISHWATER.

The board of health held a special meeting at city hall last night.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Davidson, with Members Norris, Andrews, Haines and Nellis present. The members went down and inspected the furnace of the Sanitary Reduction company and then returned to city hall, where a session of the board was held.

The bills for the month, Dr. Ogden $40 and J. H. Burgess $50, were read and approved and referred to council for payment.

Dr. J. W. Gardner was present at the meeting and called attention to the fact that people living along the alley near his property are in the habit of running their dish water, wash water, etc., out in the alley and it stands near his premises. Sanitary Officer Burgess said there were several places in the city that needed attention, and at his suggestion Andrews made a motion that the sewer commissioners be furnished with a list of the property holders who should be compelled to connect their premises with the sewer.

During the month Sanitary Officer Burgess buried two dogs.

Upon motion of Nellis seconded by Haines the salary of Sanitary Officer Burgess was increased from $50 to $65 per month. Nellis, in making the motion called attention to the fact that this was the same salary as the firemen of the city drew, and he thought the increase in pay in the salary of the sanitary policeman was nothing but right.

Then followed a general discussion in regard to the garbage furnace, and Robert Bursner, of the Sanitary Reduction company, explained the trouble the company had with the people in getting them to separate the bottles and tin cans from the garbage and distinguishing garbage from rubbish. He said the two new wagons of the company would be here soon. He entered into a long and interesting detail of how the people wanted something for nothing and included all kinds of rubbish in their garbage and then kicked if the furnace people did not move it for schedule rates. He told how one hotel had refused to pay 50 cents a week and had their garbage hauled away and dumped over the river bank. Norris said if the furnace didn't remove tin cans it wasn't the thing, and said it cost as much for having garbage removed as the water rent for an ordinary house. Bursner replied that the furnace would not burn bottles or tin cans, but that the company would see that they were removed at a small cost. Haines stated that he did not think there would be any trouble after the furnace was in full blast, and Nellis suggested that it would be wise for the company to notify the people as to keeping the garbage and tin cans separate, and Bursner replied that they intended doing that as soon as possible by giving the people cards with the rates upon them and the rules governing the disposal of garbage. He then told how one expressman had charged a merchant 75 cents for removing his garbage and had told him that it would cost him 35 cents to have it burned. The merchant paid the amount three times and the expressman only hauled one load to the furnace. The other two he dumped over the river bank, making 50 cents a load out of it.

There was absolutely no smell to the furnace when the board inspected it, but no action was taken on the matter and the board adjourned at 9.15 o'clock.

AFTER BIG SALARIES.

Stockholders of the Trenton Pottery Company Object to Paying a $10,000 Salary.

Trenton, June 7.—The officials of the Trenton Pottery company denied to a Trenton Times reporter that there was any truth in the rumor to the effect that some of the present management was to be ousted at the annual meeting of the stockholders.

The rumor was that President D. K. Bayne and General Superintendent Young were to be deposed, or at least have a big lump deducted from their salaries on the score of economy. The former receives $10,000 per annum, and the latter half of that amount. It is said that the movement was started by some of the stockholders in Connecticut and other places out of town.

President Bayne said that he had no thought that any changes would be made, or had even been talked of, unless it was among a few of the men holding but a few shares apiece. He said that the old board of directors would be elected and that the official management would remain as now. He further said that no other business of importance would be transacted.

WILL BE REPORTED.

An Inhuman Driver Abused His Team of Horses This Morning.

A heavily laden moving wagon was being driven up Calcutta road this morning. The recent rains had made the roads quite heavy, and the driver was beating the horses and endeavoring to make them draw the heavy load up the hill without a rest. A lady living on the street noticed the man's cruelty and remonstrated with him on the course he was pursuing. Instead of taking the words of the lady kindly he turned upon her with a storm of abuse, and she finally retreated into the house. It is probable that the case will be reported to the authorities, who will make the man answer for his actions.

ADJOURNED.

Board of Equalization Will Hold No More Sessions Until the First of Next Week.

The board of equalization met this morning and then adjourned for the week. They will meet again next Monday and resume their work. It is likely "kickers' day" will take place the latter part of next week. This is the day when people who think they have been assessed too high call and tell their troubles to the board.

Married Here.

Henry Bonemen and Miss Barbara Sederlin, of Pittsburg, came here last evening and secured a marriage license. They were married in East Liverpool.—Patriot.

POTTERY LEAGUE MAKES A CHANGE

All Future Games Will Be Played at Rock Springs Park.

And the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles' Club Decides to Stay in the League.

UNIFORMS WILL BE PURCHASED.

The Pottery league have stopped playing ball games at Columbian park and will play all games for the balance of the season at Rock Springs.

The inducements held out to them by the managers of Rock Springs were very good, and it is thought better crowds can be secured for the games, as it will take but eight minutes to reach Rock Springs after the cars are run to the Diamond. A committee was appointed to have the grounds placed in shape for the game Friday and at that time it will be decided where the grand stand will be located.

It was decided to let John Reark play with the K., T. & K. team, and the decision of that team in regard to withdrawing from the league was reconsidered and they will stay in the league the balance of the season.

Laughlin No. 1 notified the league that McCammon was working at their pottery and would hereafter be found in the lineup of their club. McCammon is an infielder of no mean ability.

The question of uniforms was discussed and Shell and Smurthwaite were appointed a committee to secure two complete sets of uniforms.

The Laughlin No. 2 and K., T. & K. teams will cross bats tomorrow afternoon and on the result of the game depends whether K., T. & K. will join the teams that are now tied for second place, and Laughlin No. 2 go to first place, or whether Laughlin No. 2 will go to third place and leave K., T. & K. in first place with three wins. The teams will lineup tomorrow as follows:

K., T. & K.—Millward, catcher; McShane, pitcher; Kennedy, short; Winters, first; C. Reark, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Huff, right.

TRADES COUNCIL

Met Last Evening but Held a Very Brief Session.

Trades Council met last night and held a brief meeting. Edward Bettridge, a delegate from local union No. 18, was seated. The picnic committee reported progress and the organizer reported that he had organized the bakers since the last meeting of the council.

Registered Letter Regulations.

Washington, June 7.—The postmaster general has amended the postal regulations so as to permit the sender of a registered letter to recall it after it has been dispatched. Heretofore the rule has been that such a letter could not be recalled without the consent of the addressee.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglars Steal Tools and Break into the Office at St. Clair—Got $12.

James Longnecker, the postmaster at the little postoffice at St. Clair, this county, discovered yesterday morning that the postoffice had been broken into during the night. About $12 in cash was taken from the drawer, besides a few stamps. The safe was not broken open and only the money in the cash drawer was taken. The postmaster kept a small stock of cigars and notions in connection with the office. Several boxes of cigars, a few pocket knives and other small articles to the value of $5 or $6 was stolen.

The burglars effected an entrance by prying open the front door. The tools with which they accomplished this were taken from the blacksmith shop of Ned Tolan the same night that the robbery took place.

Although no arrests have as yet been made, Mr. Longenecker, however, thinks he has a clue to the perpetrators of the deed and it is probable that the burglars will soon be in the hands of the authorities.

CONTINUED AGAIN.

The Author of "An American Hero" Failed to Appear When His Case Was Called Today.

In November, 1899, C. G. Ford brought claim before Squire Hill for the recovery from Wm. E. Morrow of $187.10, of which sum $157.10 was said to be due him as salary and $30 as royalty on his play, "An American Hero."

The company stranded while under the management of Morrow. Ford was an actor in the company and the author of the play. The case has been continued several times. It was to have had a hearing before Squire McCarron today, but on account of the whereabouts of the plaintiff not being known his attorney asked for a continuance of the case until July 7.

MUSIC HATH CHARMS.

One of the Grand Old Veterans of the Civil War Listens To It.

A number of gentlemen connected with Smith & Phillips' music store, accompanied by several lady friends, paid a visit to the home of Comrade Thomas Lloyd, Fourth street, last night, taking with them a fine Edison phonograph and a number of select records of popular pieces. The old veteran enjoyed the selections thoroughly and a very pleasant time was had.

Popular Attorney Weds.

Rev. O. B. Jones, of Leetonia, yesterday united the lives of J. B. Morgan and Miss Alice A. Aiken, of Leetonia. Mr. Morgan is a prominent young attorney well known all over the county, and his bride is one of the most popular of Leetonia's young people. Their many friends extend congratulations.

New Bank for Carrollton.

The comptroller of the currency has authorized the First National bank of Carrollton to begin business with a capital stock of $35,000. Junius Ferrall, the well known Carrollton Democrat, is president of the new institution and George S. Tinlin cashier.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY

TENTH ANNUAL E. P. MEETING.

Mingo, June 7.—(Special.)—The seventeenth annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Steubenville presbytery opened in Potter's chapel yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Platts, formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A., is pastor of this church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. White, wife of Rev. Robert White. Prayer service was led by Mrs. J. F. Shepherd, Carrollton. The president made an interesting report upon the synod meeting, after which the convention heard a "Freedmen Teacher's letter" from Miss Susan H. Johnson, of the Mary Holmes seminary. "A Mountain White Teacher's letter" was read from Miss Carrie Pond, Hot Spring, N. C., followed by a synodical teacher's letter from Miss M. Cort, of Crockettville, Ky.

"The Christian Woman's Responsibility in Home Missions" was the subject of an earnest address by Mrs. Belle Miller, of Long Run. The afternoon session closed with a solo by Miss Ruth Thomas, of Mingo.

At the evening service Rev. J. A. Platts presided. A recitation, "How to Give Our Money to Home Missions," was followed by a most interesting address by Miss Flora Palmer, secretary of the Freedmen's work.

This morning the devotional half hour was led by Mrs. M. M. Peeler, of Mingo. The report of the Young People's work was read by Miss Nettie Erskine, of Steubenville; the report of the secretary of literature by Mrs. Telfer, Monroeville. Papers on "The Past of the Indians," by Mrs. Jennie Irwin, of Steubenville; "Piths and Points in Presbyterian Work," by Mrs. William Bullock; "What We Give," by Miss Elizabeth Johnson, of Steubenville; recitation, "Home Mission Work," by Jean Buchanan, of Mingo, and a paper on "Mountain Whites," by Miss Clara Hammond, Steubenville, completed the morning session.

Devotional prayer service, Mrs. Dr. William Grimes, Steubenville; paper, Needles, Mrs. William Clark, Steubenville; an open parliament on methods (delegates taking part in suggestions), Mrs. J. Finley Laverty, Wellsville; paper, Lights and Shadows of Missionary Life, Miss Ada Noble, Wellsville; solo, Mrs. Rev. H. J. Gabriel, Dennison; symposium, Best Things at District Meetings, vice presidents; paper, Women in Church Work, Mrs. W. B. Donaldson, Steubenville; paper, Some Home Influences in the Work, Mrs. R. E. Rayman, East Liverpool.

ATTORNEY ERSKINE IS INTERVIEWED

In Toronto Regarding the Tragic Death of Dr. L. O. Williams on the Stand

WAS GREATLY AFFECTED BY IT

Although the Court and Audience Acquitted Him of Any Undue Pressure

IN CROSS-EXAMINING WITNESS.

Attorney E. E. Erskine, of the Jefferson county bar, who was cross-examining Dr. L. O. Williams at the time of the doctor's seizure, has been interviewed by the Toronto Tribune regarding the circumstances attending the death of Dr. Williams.

Mr. Erskine was attorney for Mrs. Maggie McDole, of Toronto, who was sued by Dr. Williams for $44.84. Mr. Erskine said:

"This was a claim for services rendered the Liverpool & Wellsville Street Car company who had employed him to attend Miss McDole when she was injured in an accident on the line about five years ago. Miss McDole understood that the doctor was under the employ of the company and that he looked to the company for his pay. But it seems that the company neglected to settle the claim, and failed in the course of a year or two. He then began the present action against Miss McDole. The stock Miss McDole owned in a local building and loan society had been attached by the doctor in his effort to enforce his claim."

Continuing Mr. Erskine said: "The cross-examination had been in progress for about 20 minutes, the subject I was bringing out, in a rather mild but pressing way, was as to the doctor's original agreement about the services being rendered for the company, and had before him a letter in the physician's own handwriting that clearly showed the facts to be in favor of the girl. The witness answered pleasantly with a smile and no appreciable evidence of emotion or excitement."

Mr. Erskine says he continued to press his client's claim in the case in a gentlemanly and pleasant way, without a harsh word, and bringing from the witness, with a degree of hesitancy, admission as to the original understanding that perhaps he did not like to make, and which weakened his case. All at once the doctor's head dropped back onto the chair and the pallor of death came over his features, life having fled.

Mr. Erskine says that his feelings were beyond description. He immediately asked the justice if there had been anything in his conduct of the cross-examination that he could be blamed for. The justice and all present heartily assured Mr. Erskine that his action certainly in no way contributed to the death, as there was no excited or heated examination and nothing had transpired in any way to produce any undue excitement on the part of the unfortunate man.

"East Liverpool, O., July 23, '97. Miss Maggie McDole, Toronto, O.

"I have never received anything from the street railway company and never will, if they can help it, and, of course, you know we cannot compel you to come here to testify unless you volunteer to do so. I did write you once in regard to the matter and got no answer, probably the letter never reached you. I just want to ask you if I sue the company if you will come if I notify you as to the date of the trial? If not I will drop the matter where it is, but I feel as though I ought to be paid. Please reply as I want to collect this by the last week in August, if I can.

"Very respectfully,
"L. O. WILLIAMS."

THE OTHER SIDE.

Miss Marguerite Dawson Tells About the Difficulty Respecting Rental.

The statement in an irresponsible sheet of this city that my mother, Mrs. Sarah Dawson, attempted to bluff the officers of the law, is an absolute falsehood. My mother conducted herself as a lady should. Our contract with Mr. Thomas Starkey, deceased, was to pay our rent when it was due, and we always did this. Mrs. O'Connor, daughter of Mr. Starkey, demanded rental in advance, and mother protested against this change. We owe but one month's rent, and would have paid that, in accordance with our contract, when due, which will be tomorrow, June 8. Our landlady took a high handed course, however, invoked the aid of the law and compelled us to vacate the premises. We are poor, but honest, and pay our way as we go, and we have yet to learn that it is dishonorable to be poor.

The Chevalier club will hold a dance at Rock Springs park tonight. The street railway tracks have been relaid so as to land passengers at park entrance.

A WOMAN'S BACK.

The Aches and Pains Will Disappear If the Advice of This East Liverpool Citizen Is Followed.

A woman's back has many aches and pains.

Most times 'tis the kidneys' fault. Backache is really kidney ache; That's why Doan's kidney pills cure it.

Many East Liverpool women know this.

Read what one has to say about it; Mrs. Carlina White, of 225 Railroad street, East End, says: "I used Doan's kidney pills, and found great relief from the treatment, although I am 70 years of age, and had about given up all hope of ever being helped. I took medicines. My back ached just the same; grew stiff and lame when sitting long or when lying in bed, and sharp twinges of pain and other symptoms convinced me my kidneys were out of order. Always on the lookout for anything that might bring relief, when I heard Doan's kidney pills so highly spoken of I got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. After using them for a short time I could plainly notice the good effect they were causing. I continued some time longer and gradually but surely improved. I found Doan's kidney pills a splendid remedy, and advise others to try them, feeling confident if they do so they will have no cause to regret it.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Is a genuine specific for diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. No other medicine has had so remarkable a success in curing diseases affecting the heart, liver and lungs, whenever these diseases, as is commonly the case, were caused by "weak stomach" and impure blood. Food imperfectly digested cannot be perfectly assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the organs of digestion to perfect working order. Foul blood must result in a foul body. The "Discovery" purifies the blood and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. It has been tried by over half-a-million people. It has cured ninety-eight out of every hundred who have tried it.

WHY NOT LET IT CURE YOU?

SODA WATER HONESTY.

Many people are judges of soda water to the extent only of knowing whether or not they like it.

Others can readily tell good from poor, though not able to tell where the difference lies.

People not judges should buy where they can trust.

Perfect Soda Water is dependent on the honesty and conscience of the maker in many ways. Cleanliness inside the fountain for instance. Our fountain is looked after as though we had to do all the drinking ourselves.

SUBURBAN NEWS

EAST END. SOUTH SIDE.

Fight in Sandy Bottom.

The Amazons of Sandy Bottom became engaged in a conflict Tuesday afternoon. The cause of it all was a fight between the children of two families, the quarrel being taken up by their respective mothers. The details of the struggle are difficult to obtain, as it seems that the few who might have been spectators, took to the hills as fast as possible after it commenced. There seems to be no question, however, but that considerable hair pulling was engaged in. Neither side had a great advantage when Officers Hamilton and Torrence arrived, with the result of a forced truce between the parties.

Increasing Their Library.

The Sabbath school of the Second Presbyterian church voted $25 last Sunday morning to buy books for their library. The committee which was appointed to make the selection are choosing the books and the books will soon be in the library and ready for use.

Missionary Meeting.

The missionary meeting which was to have been held at the Second Presbyterian church today has been postponed until one week hence, June 14. The postponement was on account of a member from here who attended the missionary meeting at Mingo today.

Children's Day.

Preparation are being made for the children's day exercises to be held at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. A very nice program will be rendered.

A Success.

The social given by the ladies of the Second M. E. church Tuesday evening was a success in every way. The net proceeds were about $40.

To Rock Point.

Quite a number of East End people will go to Rock Point tomorrow on the excursion being given by the Epworth League.

The Mill Completed.

The work on the rolling mill plant has almost been completed, most of the men having been discharged. The few men who have been retained will complete the work by the end of this week, when the plant will be ready for operation. It is not likely to start until after July 1, when the new scale adopted at Indianapolis goes into effect.

Republican Delegates.

The Republican delegates from Hancock county to the convention at West-ten are A. W. Brown, W. S. Brown, George Minesinger, Robert Lindsay, W. B. Stevenson, B. J. Campbell, Frank Bradley, Frank Wilkins and Lyman Stedman.

Camp Meeting.

It is probable that the Free Methodists will hold a camp meeting in the orchard beginning the latter part of this month. Arrangements will be completed at the quarterly conference to be held at Hookstown June 19 and 20.

At Washington School House.

Charles Govey is quite sick with lung trouble.

Clock Still Wanted.

The absence of a clock in the ticket office or waiting rooms at the Pennsylvania station was the topic of conversation of a number of traveling men at the depot this morning. It was the consensus of opinion that one ought to be placed there by the railroad company. One man suggested a remedy in case the company does not put a clock there soon. He proposed getting permission to place a box in the waiting room in which contributions might be dropped by the traveling public until a sufficient sum be realized to procure a time piece.

Every one agreed that some means ought to be adopted to secure the clock.

—Grant McDade left this morning for Pittsburgh, where he will spend a few days.

PACKERS' UNION ORGANIZED

More Than 50 Trenton Pottery Employees Get Together for Benefit.

True American.

Trenton, June 7.—Those men employed in the local potteries as packers met at Murphy's hall last evening and effected an organization to be known as the packers' union of Trenton. More than 50 men were present and all took an enthusiastic interest in the meeting.

Rudolph Benz, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, presided and addressed the meeting. A committee of the central labor union was present and assisted Mr. Benz in his work of organization. No business was transacted and the only object of the meeting was to effect organization.

The temporary officers elected were: President, Edward Alderson; vice president, George Taylor; secretary, Morris King; treasurer, Edward Floel. The charter will be received next Tuesday evening.

RESOLUTIONS OF REGRET

Adopted on the Death of Dr. L. O. Williams by the City Medical Fraternity.

At a called meeting of the medical fraternity of the city the following resolutions were adopted:

First, That in the death of Dr. L. O. Williams the community has lost a progressive, energetic, able and conscientious citizen, one who ever had the interest of the city at heart, and one whose advice and counsel will be missed by his collaborators.

Second, That the medical profession has lost a courteous gentleman, an able practitioner and a valued counselor.

Third, That the indigent poor, to whose wants he has ministered for the past several years, have lost a faithful servant and an ever ready friend.

Fourth, That we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to the Great Physician who heals all wounds.

OHIO IN CONGRESS.

The most important literary-historical work of this decade of special interest to the people of the Buckeye state is "Ohio in Congress," publication of which, in serial form, begins today in these columns. It is fitting that, as Ohio stands upon the threshold of her second century of statehood, the services of her sons in the national congress during her first century should be commemorated by some such competent work as this. Monuments of stone and bronze to the heroes of a commonwealth or a nation are well enough in their way, but the best monuments to human greatness in the world's history are the recorded deeds and thoughts and words of the world's history-makers. Such a monument to the memory of many of Ohio's best loved sons is this tribute to her national lawmakers.

The vast labor involved in this serial and the immense fund of material which it brings compactly before the reader would justify a voluminous work. The author's aim, however, has been to condense and to avoid elaboration. The first chapters will indicate how well he has succeeded in this regard, and are a guarantee of the terse treatment with which he has handled his subject from beginning to end. The result is an invaluable summarization of the history of Ohio's progress during the nineteenth century, with biographical sketches, in the order of their election, of 29 of Ohio's United States senators and 388 representatives in congress. Portraits of the more distinguished accompany their biographies. Reference to this work will instantly answer any question which may arise as to the personnel of Ohio's representation in congress during the past 100 years; the nature and extent of the public services of her sons in congress, their places of residence, personal and domestic relations, and all facts material to their public careers. The work is essentially a history—or a collection of histories—absolutely free from politics or prejudice. It presents facts, not argument.

No outline within the scope of an editorial announcement can convey to the reader a just appreciation of the value of "Ohio in Congress" as a work appealing to the intelligence of a modern newspaper's constituents. The publication at this time, on the eve of the state's great centennial anniversary, is most appropriate, but at any time it would be recognized as a remarkable contribution to our fund of knowledge touching those subjects which excite the pride and inspire the reverence of Ohio-born people.

We earnestly commend this feature to our readers, not only for the perusal which contributes to entertainment, but for the more serious business of mental culture. It deserves to be read, and, following that, to be preserved.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES

Furnish Amusement for Robinson and Kossuth Street People
Last Evening.

Yesterday afternoon two brothers, who reside on Robinson street, got into a quarrel. The affair started over a small son of one of them and the wife was also mixed up in the fracas. The loud talk could be heard for a block and finally the parties mixed up. The battle closely resembled a chicken fight and neither of the men were hit. Finally one of them pulled a large knife and said what he would do, but he didn't do it. The quarrel ended with dire threats and the crowd that had gathered expecting to see bloodshed were disappointed.

He was fairly well under the influence of liquor as he came down Kossuth street last night closely pursued by his faithful wife, who was upbraiding him at the top of her voice. She wanted him to go home, and he wanted her to go home and not follow him. Both of them seemed unconscious of the fact that they were amusing a whole lot of people and talked loud and strong. She told him if he didn't go home he would get run in. He defied her to call the patrol and said he would stand at the corner while she got the wagon. She didn't want him arrested and told him so. The couple disappeared around the corner of Broadway telling each other how it was and there is now a lot of people who would like to know how it all ended. It probably ended like all family quarrels by the people making up and going home.

HAUNTED CITY HALL.

Woman With a Tale of Woe Worried the Mayor, the Chief and the City Clerk.

There was not an arrest last evening and the jail would be empty this morning if it were not for the presence of James McCormick.

Complaints were numerous, however, as one woman kept the mayor and marshal busy. She called first yesterday afternoon and the mayor listened to a story of how she had been robbed of two $10 bills. Later in the afternoon she arrived again, and this time her loss had dwindled down to the insignificant sum of $1.50. The mayor heard with patience once more and was surprised when she appeared again to inform him that she hadn't lost a cent, but she told him a new story about the party she wanted arrested this time. She came back again after supper and wanted to see Chief Thompson, but he was fortunate enough to be out. Bright and early this morning she was on hand and met Clerk Hanley, who was very much astonished at her appearance. Later she related her tale of woe to Chief Thompson.

A small boy and a big dog called at the mayor's office this morning, and the boy stated that his aunt wanted the dog shot, as it had bitten a girl about one year ago. He said the dog was playing with another dog yesterday and later the other dog went mad and was shot. The boy was told to take his dog home, tie it up and keep it a month to see if it went mad. There was one happy youngster around city hall when the boy received this information.

COULDN'T CARRY JAG AND $60 ROLL

So John Stiver, of Columbiana,
Dropped the Roll In an Alley
In Lisbon.

WILLIAM GROSS GRABBED IT

Hired a Rig and Hiked to Leetonia
Where the Chief of Police

Lisbon, June 7.—(Special.)—John Stiver, an aged resident of Columbiana, was in Lisbon yesterday trying to carry a jag and a $60 roll at the same time. He ran across a young man named William Gross, of this city, who inveigled him into an alley and relieved him of his roll. Gross then hired a livery rig and started for Leetonia. Deputy Sheriff Bick was notified of the robbery and telephoned Chief of Police Lanahan, of Leetonia, to be on the lookout for Gross. When the young man arrived there he was arrested by Chief Lanahan, confessed and turned over $54 of the money. He was lodged in the county jail last night.

BARKEEPER SPEAKS.

He Has a Nice Little Story to Communicate to Owners and Proprietors of Saloons.

Editor News Review:—I am aware of the fact that you are for the saloons and down on the liquor traffic and licensing of the sale of intoxicants. I do not know that you will publish my lame article, as I am merely a barkeeper; but I have been told that you will give even a saloonkeeper or a barkeeper of a saloon fair play and a hearing. So here goes:

I have been a pottery worker and a strong advocate of unionism. I do not believe that a workman should toil longer than nine hours out of every twenty-four hours. The union workmen in our potteries work but about nine hours. The same rule holds good for the clerks in our stores and business houses. They tell me that men and women in the printing offices work but nine hours out of twenty-four hours, and in some cases but eight hours in the twenty-four. This is unionism and fair play and meets the approval of the true friends of the toilers.

How about the barkeeper? The saloonkeeper is always a howling unionist, and he blackguards the clothier, shoe merchant, dry goods merchant, who do not shut up at the proper hour and give their employees a square deal. And yet this same saloonkeeper demands that his barkeepers shall toil from fourteen to sixteen hours out of every twenty-four, making his life a burden—making the poor fellow a very slave. My employer will give me fits and perhaps discharge me if he discovers that I have written this. You have my true name, as I know that you will not publish anonymous communications. But I know that you will not betray me. I know, intimately, some of your close personal friends, and they assure me you will keep my identity a secret. Let me wind this communication up with the following:

SOLDIERS EXHAUSTED.

Hardships, Hunger and Fever Disabled
Most of March's Men—Guesswork
as to Aguinaldo.

MANILA, June 7.—A dispatch from Candon, dated June 4, said: Major P. C. March's men, of the Thirty-third regiment, returned to Candon that day by steamer from Aparri. A majority of the men were ready for the hospital. They were thin and weak, having traveled about 250 miles in the mountains, during which they suffered greatly from hunger. Of the 50 horses which started with the battalion 13 survived. The remainder died on the march or fell into canyons. The battalion practically collapsed at Piat, about 30 miles from Tuguegarao, as the result of fevers and exhaustion. Eighty-seven of the men were conveyed from Piat to Maguegarao in bull carts, and those falling on the way were carried in litters by Igorottes with the column.

The officers accompanying Major March were Captains Henry L. Jenkinson and Edward Davis, Lieutenants Carroll Power and Frank L. Case, and Dr. John O. Greenwalt, assistant surgeon. They said it was all guess work as to whether Aguinaldo was shot. Before the Americans struck Sagat, the insurgent chief divided his forces into parties of ten, following different trails. The officer shot was probably Aguinaldo's secretary or adjutant. The report among the natives of the region was that Aguinaldo was wounded in the shoulder.

The papers secured showed that nearly all the presidents installed by the Americans in General Young's territory were treacherous and had been making regular reports to Aguinaldo for the disposition and movements of the American troops, and they had been collecting and forwarding taxes. The captured papers also proved the disloyalty of the native telegraph operators whom the Americans retained on the Cayan valley line.

When Tirona surrendered the Filipino forces in that section, these operators professed loyalty and took the oath of allegiance. But it was shown that they had been sending Aguinaldo copies of important telegrams exchanged between the American officials.

Letters were also found relating to large contributions forwarded to Aguinaldo from Spanish and other foreign business men.

AGUINALDO'S ASSERTION DENIED.

General Greene and Other Americans Refuted His Story.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The president sent to the senate a reply to the statement made by Aguinaldo in his "true version of the Philippine revolution." In that Aguinaldo said, among other things, that the Spaniards had captured six guns from the American soldiers in front of Manila before the surrender of that city to the American forces and that they were recaptured by the Filipinos and returned to the Americans. Secretary Root referred the matter to General Greene, who referred Aguinaldo's statement to the battalion and battery commanders and he forwarded their replies in refutation of the charge. General Greene himself said:

The statements made by Aguinaldo are absolutely without foundation. Each and every one of them is untrue. The United States did not fall back. Did not abandon a single rifle or a single field gun. Did not make a precipitate retreat. The Filipinos did not rush to our assistance, did not recapture the rifles and field guns and did not return them to the Americans. The Filipinos took no part in the engagements between the Spaniards and American troops. Every single statement in the extract quoted in your letter is false.

RESOLUTION

Declaring It Necessary to Improve
Pleasant Street From Culvert Over
Carpenter's Run to Lisbon Street.

RESOLVED by the council of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, two-thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring, that it is deemed necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve Pleasant street between the points above named, by grading the same to the established grade. The work shall be done in accordance with the profiles, plans and specifications on file in the office of the city engineer. The expense of the said improvement shall be assessed per foot front on the property bounding and abutting thereon, in accordance with the law and ordinances on the subject of assessments. The assessments therefor to be paid in five annual installments, if deferred, and the same collected as provided by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds may be issued in anticipation of the collection of the assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued, and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance, and the Clerk is hereby directed to cause this resolution to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the corporation for a period of two consecutive weeks, and the City Marshal is hereby instructed to notify the proper persons of the passage of this resolution and make return as required by law.

CRITICAL IN CHINA.

Affairs Have Reached an Alarming Stage.

INTERVENTION MAY BE NEEDED.

One Report Said Japan Prevented the Landing of Russian Troops—Another, That China Denied the Russian Minister Had Made Such an Offer.

LONDON, June 7.—Affairs in China are gradually working up a crisis of the first magnitude. The morning papers think that the British squadron is recognized as inferior in strength to the Russian, as well as to the Japanese. The Daily Telegraph says:

"We regret that Great Britain is too much occupied in South Africa to settle the Chinese business with a strong hand."

It is reported that intervention in some form is necessary.

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, telegraphing yesterday, said in part:

"Not one Boxer has yet been arrested or punished. Anxiety is increasing regarding the fate of the missionaries at the various stations. At the meeting of the Tsung Li Yamen yesterday (Tuesday) the Japanese minister discussed the offer of M. de Giers, Russian minister, to give assistance of the Russian troops in quelling disturbances. The Tsung Li Yamen denied that the offer had been made, but Russia did make it and the Chinese government is quite capable of accepting such assistance."

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, in a long mail article, dated April 25, which deals with Russo-Japanese rivalry in the far east, expresses the opinion that war between the two powers is inevitable and that it cannot be long delayed because of Russia's immense Chinese designs and of the hatred the Japanese feel for Russia when they see her enjoying the fruits of Japan's victorious war to the detriment of Japan.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—In consequence of the representations of Japan, the landing of a large Russian force at Taku is alleged to have been stopped. It is believed here that should Russia persist in sending a preponderating military force to the front a collision with Japan will inevitably result.

Alarming reports are current here of the hurried completion of the mobilization of the Japanese.

The Russian minister at Pekin, M. de Giers, made another attempt to induce the Chinese foreign office to formally request Russian assistance to restore order, but the offer has not yet been accepted.

ANOTHER WARSHIP ORDERED TO CHINA.

A Gunboat to Be Sent Which Can Ascend the Pei-Ho River to Tsin Tsin.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Minister Conger cabled that the situation was worse at Pekin, and this statement, taken in connection with Admiral Kempff's alarming cablegram of the day before announcing that an engagement had been begun, had an effect on the state department. A cablegram was sent to Admiral Remey, at Manila, directing him to dispatch at once to Admiral Kempff's command the gunboat Helena, or if that craft was not at Manila and ready for immediate service, then some craft of correspondingly light draft and power. Admiral Kempff's flagship, the Newark, cannot ascend the river safely beyond the Taku forts, near the entrance, but the little Helena, drawing only 11 feet, can safely ascend to Tsin Tsin, 40 miles above. She was specially designed for service in these Chinese rivers. She carries a battery particularly adapted to dealing with such half organized mobs as the "Boxers." Besides her eight 4-inch rapid fire guns, she carries four six-pounder rapid fire guns, four one-pounder rapid fire guns, two Colts and one 3-inch rapid fire field gun.

WOMEN OUTRAGED.

Fearful Crime Charged to the Boxers, Afterward Murdered the Husbands.

LONDON, June 7.—A special from Shanghai, dated June 6, said the members of the majority of the legations at Pekin, including the members of the British legation, were sending their families away. It is also said that several prominent Chinese residents are leaving the city.

There is an unconfirmed report that two Russian engineers have been murdered at Yu Chow Fu, northwest of Port

Arthur, after their wives had been outraged. The total damage done to the Chinese railroads by the Boxers is now estimated at $5,000,000.

FOUGHT WITH BOXERS.

Imperial Troops Said to Have Given Them Battle—Many Persons Were Killed on Both Sides.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—The soldiers dispatched to attack the Boxers have fought an engagement quite close to Pekin. Many were killed on both sides.

Violent dissensions are reported to exist between the Chinese commander-in-chief of the forces, Jung-fu, and Prince Ching-Tuan, who, in accordance with the wishes of the dowager empress, is strongly supporting the cause of the Boxers.

The mobs who murdered the English missionaries, Robinson and Norman, mutilated and disemboweled the bodies. The station at Yan-Tin, about three miles from Pekin, was burned.

The British minister, Sir Claude M. MacDonald, was reported to be quite ill.

HOME MISSION SOCIETY.

The Seventy-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Congregational Organization. Women's Department Also Met.

DETROIT, June 7.—The first day's business sessions of the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society opened with the reading of a paper, entitled "Five Points," in which Rev. Washington Choate, D. D., secretary of the society, presented some of the salient features of the society's work.

General O. O. Howard, president of the society, followed with a brief energetic address.

Later, the eighteenth annual meeting of the woman's department of the Home Missionary society was held. Miss Lydia Hartig, of Vermont, told "How We Solve the Problem in Rural New England," Mrs. James L. Hill, of Massachusetts, spoke on "Our Boys and the Future of Home Missions," and Rev. U. G. Pich, of North Dakota, related some of his "Frontier Experiences."

DEWEY ENTERTAINED.

Reunion of Old Soldiers and Sailors and Barbecue—Visited Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were welcomed by a large crowd here.

During the morning hours a reunion of old soldiers and sailors was held at the Driving park, Mayor Swartz calling the assemblage to order and delivering an address of welcome.

About noon occurred the barbecue and carnival of sports, and the latter was in progress when Admiral Dewey arrived at the Driving park. After about an hour there the admiral returned to his hotel, stopping at the Deaf and Dumb institution, where a special program had been prepared. Last evening he attended a campfire and later the Press club smoker.

Pittsburgher Nominated For Vice President.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Socialist Labor party, in convention in this city, nominated Joseph F. Maloney, of Lynn, Mass., for president of the United States, and Val Rammel, of Pittsburgh, for vice president.

EVENTS BRIEFLY NARRATED

Missouri Democrats nominated Dockery for governor.

Idaho Democratic convention selected a delegation friendly to Governor Steunenberg.

Thomas Norton, Ohio, confirmed as consul, at Harput, Turkey.

President McKinley was at the capitol and signed some of the bills passed.

A movement to organize national negro political party started, at Philadelphia.

General Wheeler will be given no military assignment under his commission of brigadier general of regulars, but will be placed on the retired list for age within the next few days.

Lawrence Lord, Fairview, Erie county, Pa., found on Philadelphia street, skull fractured. Died in hospital. Foul play suspected.

Idaho Democrats endorsed Bryan and Lewis for national ticket.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Showers and probably thunderstorms today; tomorrow fair and cooler; high southerly, shifting to westerly winds.

HOLT THE NOMINEE.

A LIVELY CONVENTION HELD.

Amid an Endless Changing of Votes, Tavenner Lost Enough of His Strength to Throw the Nomination to His Opponent—Chicago Platform Endorsed.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 7.—The Democratic convention here held three sessions. The third session was an all night performance. Neither parliamentary rules nor those of force could preserve order. When the last session began there was nothing to do except adopt the reports on credentials and resolutions and there was no opposition to either report, so that nominating speeches were soon begun for the nomination of governor. The hall had been packed for favorites, and when the drift was tending their way these outsiders resorted to all sorts of disturbances. It was almost midnight before order was restored.

In the midst of this uproar and confusion the vote was disputed and changes were made indiscriminately and endlessly. Finally there was a second call of the counties for changes only when the vote of Flourey and Lewis changed either to Holt or Tavenner, the former getting the best of the changes, as Tavenner was the leader at the end of the first call of the counties.

Judge Holt was nominated for governor. He is a prominent attorney and was on the ticket for the supreme bench four years. He is 40 years old and a brilliant speaker. He made a most stirring speech of acceptance, after which the convention adjourned at 12:20 a. m. until 10 a. m. today.

The platform adopted endorsed Bryan and the Chicago platform, and pledged support to the Kansas City ticket and platform. It denounced trusts, imperialism, the Porto Rican tariff, the Philippine war, militarism, the recent financial act of congress, the increase of the standing army and the administration of President McKinley and Governor Atkinson. Sympathy was expressed with the Boers, the Nicaragua canal was strongly favored, and a strong resolution was adopted against recognizing the old Virginia debt in any form.

TO PRAY AT THE CONVENTION.

Baptist Minister, About 80 Years Old, Selected For Philadelphia Gathering.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Rev. Edward H. Levy, D. D., of this city, received official notification of his selection as chaplain to the national Republican convention. The information came in a communication from Chairman Hanna, of the national committee. When Dr. Levy will have fulfilled his offices he will bear the unique distinction of having acted as chaplain of two Republican national conventions, 44 years apart. Dr. Levy, in 1856, acted as chaplain of the Fremont convention, held in this city at Musical Fund hall. He is a Baptist clergyman and is about 80 years of age.

KERN NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Bryan and Chicago Platform Endorsed by Indiana Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7.—The Democratic state convention nominated John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, for governor and a full state ticket.

The platform, as presented, endorsed William Jennings Bryan for the presidency, reaffirmed the Chicago platform and omitted mention of the ratio of 16 to 1. Its reading was followed by a burst of tumultuous approval and the platform was adopted unanimously.

Delegates Instructed For Bryan.

CHAMBERLAIN, S. D., June 7.—The Democratic state convention, for the selection of eight delegates to the Kansas City convention, concluded its labors. The delegates were instructed for Bryan.

Three Killed by a Train.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Three men were killed by being run over by a passenger train on the Long Island railroad, near Laurel Hill, L. I. They were Matthew Clark, aged 42, laborer; Daniel Halpin, age 22, and Patrick Ryan, age 42, single. The men were walking on the track when struck.

British Captured by Boers.

MAZERU, Basutoland, June 7.—A trooper of Brabant's horse said that Boers took 54 British prisoners, including an officer, whom they released conditionally. The officer estimated that the Boer forces between Ficksburg and Bethlehem numbered 6,000 men.

A Rise in Jersey Central Owing to Rumors of Control by the Baltimore and Ohio.

NEW YORK, June 7.—About midway of Wednesday's session of the Stock Exchange there was a rise of 3 points in New Jersey Central on rumors of control by Baltimore and Ohio. This incident offered an isolated feature of strength in Wednesday's market and caused the only brief respite from the mood of depression which prevailed all day. The most effective single factor was the warlike development in China.

News of the domestic iron trade was confused, reports of declining prices being mingled with reports of reopening of some mills recently closed down. Tennessee Coal was the weakest of the Steel group and lost 2 1/4. In the general list prices were weak throughout, but stocks which have shown some strength recently were most affected. Atchison preferred, St. Paul, Baltimore and Ohio, Union Pacific and Louisville were examples.

There is growing uneasiness in speculative circles over the prospects of the wheat crop, based upon the low condition reported Wednesday from Ohio and the continued drought in the northwest. The convening of the joint passenger committee in this city and the meeting today of railroad presidents to attempt an adjustment of the rate disturbances calls attention to that source of danger to values of railroad securities. The money market continues almost unprecedentedly easy, in spite of the taking up by the sub-treasury from the banks of $2,630,000 thus far this week. This gain by the sub-treasury is due to the calling in of government deposits from the banks, and the money will be returned to the channels of the market as soon as the 2 per cent bonds, which have been recalled, are presented for redemption.

The bond market weakened in sympathy with stocks on a moderate volume of business. Total sales, par value, $1,195,000. United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Wheat was active Wednesday, and strong because of anxiety over the northwest crop situation and a reduction in the Ohio crop figures, July closing 1 1/4c over Tuesday. Corn closed 1/8c lower and oats a shade higher. Provisions thrived under a good outside demand and closed strong, a shade to 1/2c @ 15c improved.

CONGRESS DISAGREED.

Deadlock Prevented Adjournment at Appointed Time.

NAVAL BILL UNDER CONTENTION.

House Reversed Its Conferrees, Who Had Agreed to Senate Amendments, and New Conferrees Were Chosen—Hot Political Debate In Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—When the house last night about 10:30 took a recess until 10 o'clock today the two chambers of the national legislature, with heads down and horns locked, were in a desperate struggle over the item in the naval appropriation bill relating to ocean surveys. The final adjournment of congress is postponed until it is over.

The proceedings in the house during the day were tame and without dramatic incident. This was partly due to the fact that the firm position taken by the house on the armor plate provision transferred the fight to the floor of the senate, and to the obstinate refusal of Mr. Lentz, an Ohio Democrat, to permit any unanimous consent legislation until the Republican leaders agreed to allow the testimony in the Couer d'Alene investigation to be printed. Mr. Lentz held the house by the throat all day, and except for privileged matters things legislative were at a standstill.

But last night there was enough excitement to compensate for the dullness of the day session. The house got its dander up over the failure of its conferrees to abide by their instructions on the ocean survey item and, after an exceedingly sensational debate, in which Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriations committee, made some startling disclosures as to the manner in which Commander Todd, the hydrographer of the navy, had waged his campaign against the stand taken by the house in favor of the coast and geodetic survey doing ocean survey work, the house rejected the conference report by an overwhelming majority and the speaker took the almost unprecedented course of appointing new conferrees on the part of the house who are not members of the naval committee.

During the debate the conferrees defended their course as best they could, and Mr. Foss, acting chairman of the committee, resented with bitter language the charge that he had betrayed the house. Hot words were bandied back and forth, but the house was in an ugly mood and was resolved to fight the senate to a finish.

The appointment as conferrees of Mr. Cannon, Mr. Moody and Mr. Shafroth, all of whom were in sympathy with the house's position, assured no surrender on their part until the house itself should direct them to yield.

It was a day of strife and turmoil in the senate. Early the conferrees on the naval bill reported a disagreement, and the senate was told plainly that the house would not consent to the amendment providing for an armor plate factory to be operated by the government.

A compromise proposition was presented by Mr. Penrose (Pa.) and, after hours of debate, finally was adopted by a vote of 39 to 35. The discussion of the proposition developed an unusual bitterness of feeling, and charges of robbery and corruption were hurled about the chamber with an abandon which, if they had not fallen from the lips of grave senators, would have been regarded as reckless. Little worse ever was heard in the heat of a political campaign.

Three o'clock, the hour agreed upon for final adjournment, was passed and still the senate wrestled with the armor question. When the Penrose proposition finally was agreed to, it was supposed the way was clear, but late last night another disagreement was reported on the naval bill, and the senate took an adjournment until 11 o'clock today.

Mr. Penrose's amendment was as follows:

That the secretary of the navy is hereby authorized to procure by contract armor of the best quality for any or all vessels above referred to, provided such contracts can be made at a price which, in his judgment, is reasonable and equitable, but in case he is unable to make contracts for armor under the above conditions, he is hereby authorized and directed to procure a site for and to erect thereon a factory for the manufacture of armor, and the sum of $4,000,000 is hereby appropriated toward the erection of a factory.

The evening session presented a brilliant scene, the galleries being thronged with a gay and fashionable assemblage. The members were immensely entertained, as Senators Carter (Mon.), Mason (Ills.), Turpin (Wash.) and Money (Miss.) kept the debate on edge with rattling political ches.

IRIS, June 7.—A distinct honor to American womanhood is the election of Jane Addams, of Chicago, as president of the jury of social economy, at position.

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

INTRODUCTORY.

Two great epochs in the history of the vast empire lying west of the Allegheny range, and north of the Ohio river, were the Ordinance of 1787, erecting the Northwest Territory, and the Constitution of 1802, adding the eighteenth state to the Union.

The first marked the history of a colony of almost boundless resources and possibilities; the second, the genesis of a commonwealth which added lustre to civilization and progress from the hour of its nativity.

The threatened deterioration of our political system of representative self-government was checked when the founders of Ohio launched the new commonwealth on the sea of political activity and progressive republican thought and achievement.

The Ordinance of 1788 was an inspiration. The state of Ohio was the fulfillment of the prophecy it contained. The congested and dwarfed thought of the original states, not yet beyond the enervating shadow of European systems, corrugated with the dehumanizing prejudices and superstitions of centuries, running back to the Dark Ages, found a new and generous field in which to develop and expand, quickly reflecting its broader thought, loftier hope and aspiration and more exalted ideals, eastward to the Atlantic, while it carried the standard of the higher civilization to and across the Father of Waters, over the lofty peaks of the Sierras, and planted it in triumph upon the zephyr-kissed shores of the Pacific.

One by one new stars came out to join the lustrous procession of the eighteenth, till they clustered in splendor from the headwaters of the Ohio to the northern lakes, and thence to the Golden Gate and the Rio Grande. Ohio has indeed been great in all that goes to make up the real greatness of a free commonwealth.

Her founders came fresh from the fields and fires of the Revolution, imbued with lofty purposes and noble ambitions; instinct with prophecy, and militant in the religion of humanity.

Like tiny rivulets they came coursing through the gaps of the Appalachian range from its northern extremity southward to the where its blue peaks smiled to the tepid waters of the gulf stream—a new Trojan pilgrimage, charmed and inspired with the descriptions of daring traders and men and women returning from barbarian captivity, of a new world more splendid than Plato's dream—of a Paradise that only awaited the pruning hand of civilization to make it the premier diamond in the matchless crown of the young republic.

As time passed these tiny streams grew into a mighty river of onrushing humanity, before whose influence the forests melted away and the log cabin, the farmhouse, the hamlet, the town and then the city, rose like genii responsive to the wand of the magician.

Noble Women and Patriotic Men.

And what noble and heroic women, and strong, patriotic men they were! In their religion there were no creeds but humanity and the love of liberty, and in the homes they reared, fidelity, helpful love and filial piety and respect were the guardian cherubim of the never dying morality with which the foundations of the state were cemented.

The herald roll of names that graced the four decades following 1788 would take precedence over the roster of the Golden Age or the Blue Book of the foremost kingdom of all time.

What Ohio is today she owes to the fathers and mothers, who reared a race of men and taught them to put duty before convenience and write principle in a lexicon where no such word as policy, the polite substitute for diplomacy, chicane and mendacity, was to be found.

In 1803 Ohio had a population of 47,000, and stood eighteenth in the order of the sisterhood of states. In 1840 she stood third in population and all the elements of greatness. In 1890, through the genius of the census taker, Illinois was temporarily given her station, but in 1900, when her original population will be multiplied by 100, she proposes to take her place once more.

miss of but 10 summers, she furnished 20,000 heroic soldiers of all arms in the war of 1812, and the hostilities leading immediately thereto—more than one-fifth of all the soldiers of the Union, who made Old Glory's title clear to the New World in that memorable struggle.

She sent 5,500 men to hew the way from the Rio Grande to the Halls of the Montezumas, in 1846, and was ready to multiply that number by 10 had there been a necessity.

In the great civil war, when the Republic passed the final fiery test, she set her squadrons, numbering 340,000, afield in the forefront of battle, one-seventh of all the armies, one in seven of her population, one-half her sons of the military age, and of these one in 14 died as the soldier died, on the field of battle or in the groaning hospital. In the Spanish-American war, ere the bugle call to arms had ceased to reverberate through her hills and valleys and across her green and waving fields, she tendered to the government 16,900 soldiers, 2,000 in excess of her allotment, while 100,000 of her patriotic young and middle-aged men appealed in vain to be enrolled in the country's service.

Four citizens of the state have been chosen president—five presidents born upon her fruitful soil. In camp and military council she has been nobly represented by the foremost military chieftains of the century. In the senate, in congress, in the cabinet, on the bench and in the department of state her statesmen, jurists and diplomats have been second to none. Her sons not only founded this great state, but, leading the march of progress, founded colonies which grew into states from the source of the Mississippi to its junction with the Ohio, and thence west and northwest and southwest, across the trackless, arid plains to and over the Sierras, through the modulated foothills and broad savannas to the Golden Gate of the Pacific, and the threshold of the occident, until, from a score of mighty commonwealths, they sit in the nation's councils untutored in sycophancy and intrigue; unlearned in the cold indifference of selfishness and chicane, but robust in American manhood, and as frank and open as the sunlight and the wind that ripen and sway the harvests in fields as countless as the stars, and as beautiful as they.

We read with pardonable native pride on every page of current history of the distinguished positions in art and literature and law and theology and science and politics and economics, held by the sons and daughters of Ohio, not in Ohio alone, but in almost every state and almost every city in the Union. And as long as their generations emulate the virtues of their illustrious ancestry, the star of our civilization will shine in the zenith, as shone the Star of Bethlehem above the rim of the orient, to usher in the natal day of Him who broke the manacles of Creed and opened the gates of Paradise to the poor and humble as well as to the opulent and powerful.

We are twitted about the "Ohio Idea" sometimes, but will the jesters tell us whence came any of the great ideas moulded into the policy of the nation during the past half century, but from the fertile and versatile soil of Ohio? It was an Ohioan who, at the beginning of the war, evolved a financial system which kept the countless battalions afield until the integrity of the Union was put beyond cavil. It was an Ohio man, who as the minister of war, directed the mighty operations of these battalions. It was an Ohio man who led them through the bitter struggle and the final triumph. It was an Ohio man whose legions swept from Atlanta to the sea, delivering to the Confederacy its first fatal blow—a blow that reached to the apple tree at Appomattox, where an Ohio man exemplified Ohio's great ideas by sending the captured Confederates home, unshackled freemen, his very act kindling in their hearts the fires of loyalty and patriotism which long since burned out all hatreds and prejudices.

Franklin, a Massachusetts man, chained the lightning, but he was a dangerous giant, and his utility problematic, until Edison, an Ohio man, more than a century later, tamed him and revolutionized the world—turning night into day with his brilliant rays and setting an empire's machinery in motion with his resistless and silent power. These things are not the result of a mere accident. They result from a clearly defined cause. They are the natural result of a virile and a broad-based civilization, springing into activity and power, here within the confines of Ohio, and in strict conformity with natural, moral and physical laws.

Read of the founding of the ancient states, and the elemental constituents were as naught compared with that of Ohio. A single race or a single sect made up the founders of the ancient state. There was no combining and affiliation of strong elements, which became stronger and better by the union. No empire or state mentioned in history embraced so many elements at its birth, and during its early growth, as Ohio. In the sunset of the seventeenth and the morning of the eighteenth centuries, a few intermittent heralds and pursuivants of the coming civilization came into and crossed some portion of the Miami valley, blazing the future march of empire, and startling the puny civilization of Europe with their wonderful narratives, but not until the close of the revolutionary epoch did the tide of venture-some civilization rise to the Appalachian summits and trickle down into the Ohio basin in forceful streams, constantly fed and constantly augmented by those whose gaze was fixed upon the evening star.

They comprised the children of every family of the Aryan race—all the strongest elements of European civilization. Celt and Gaul; Pict and Scot; Saxon, Dane, Norman and Briton; Teuton and Latin; Roundhead, Cavalier, Huguenot and Puritan; Covenanters and Dissenter; Calvinist and Lutheran; Catholic and Protestant, they marched abreast under the single banner of civilization, and gave the first exemplification not of the right alone, but of the practice of worshipping God according to the dictates of their own conscience, while each respected his fellow who followed the same practice.

An Asylum For the Oppressed.

Think of these varying elements and the remote generations from which they had descended. Some from the dwellers of ancient Memphis and from the artisans of the Pyramids. Others dated back to the events of the Roman empire, or to Marathon, or Thermopylae. Still others could trace their lineage to the heroes of Cressy, Poitiers, Agincourt or Flodden. All were strong family types, proud and independent spirits, fretting against the debasing environments of European monarchy slowly evolving from a rapidly disappearing feudalism, and seeking in the new world an asylum, for the promised land where the new political birth was destined to challenge the wonder and admiration of the nations, and life up the proud standard of individual manhood and sovereignty.

These diverse, or seemingly diverse human elements, speedily blended and commingled, forming a splendid composite type, the grandest of the nineteenth century, and one which will put its impress upon all the decades of the twentieth. The whole was better and greater than any of its individual parts. The new type was grander, and of infinitely greater proportion, than

Notice of Sale of Bonds.

East Liverpool, O., May 23, 1900.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until Monday, the 25th day of June, 1900, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purchase of 105 bonds of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, bearing date the 1st day of July, 1900, and payable forty (40) years from said date, but redeemable at any time after twenty (20) years from said date at the option of said city, each bond being for the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars and bearing interest at the rate of four (4) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding certain indebtedness, water works bonds, which, from its limit of taxation, said city is unable to pay, and in pursuance of section 2701 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and of an ordinance, No. 635, passed the 8th day of May, 1900, authorizing their issue.

Bidders will be required to state in writing and in figures, the gross amount they will pay for the bonds bid for in addition to the accrued interest at the date of delivery, and no bid will be accepted for less than par and accrued interest at the date of delivery.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check on some National Bank, in the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, payable to the order of the city clerk of the said city, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted the bonds will be promptly paid for when delivered.

The city council reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

All proposals should be addressed to J. N. HANLEY,

City Clerk.

Health Board Raises Salary of Sanitary Policeman From $50 to $65 a Month.

THE NEW GARBAGE FURNACE

Inspected by the Board and a Lengthy Discussion of the Problem Follows.

COMPLAINT ABOUT DISHWATER.

The board of health held a special meeting at city hall last night.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Davidson, with Members Norris, Andrews, Haines and Nellis present. The members went down and inspected the furnace of the Sanitary Reduction company and then returned to city hall, where a session of the board was held.

The bills for the month, Dr. Ogden $40 and J. H. Burgess $50, were read and approved and referred to council for payment.

Dr. J. W. Gardner was present at the meeting and called attention to the fact that people living along the alley near his property are in the habit of running their dish water, wash water, etc., out in the alley and it stands near his premises. Sanitary Officer Burgess said there were several places in the city that needed attention, and at his suggestion Andrews made a motion that the sewer commissioners be furnished with a list of the property holders who should be compelled to connect their premises with the sewer.

During the month Sanitary Officer
Burgess buried two dogs.

Upon motion of Nellis seconded by Haines the salary of Sanitary Officer Burgess was increased from $50 to $65 per month. Nellis, in making the motion called attention to the fact that this was the same salary as the firemen of the city drew, and he thought the increase in pay in the salary of the sanitary policeman was nothing but right.

Then followed a general discussion in regard to the garbage furnace, and Robert Bursner, of the Sanitary Reduction company, explained the trouble the company had with the people in getting them to separate the bottles and tin cans from the garbage and distinguishing garbage from rubbish. He said the two new wagons of the company would be here soon.
He entered into a long and interesting detail of how the people wanted something for nothing and included all kinds of rubbish in their garbage and then kicked if the furnace people did not move it for schedule rates. He told how one hotel had refused to pay 50 cents a week and had their garbage hauled away and dumped over the river bank. Norris said if the furnace didn't remove tin cans it wasn't the thing, and said it cost as much for having garbage removed as the water rent for an ordinary house.
Bursner replied that the furnace would not burn bottles or tin cans, but that the company would see that they were removed at a small cost. Haines stated that he did not think there would be any trouble after the furnace was in full blast, and Nellis suggested that it would be wise for the company to notify the people as to keeping the garbage and tin cans separate, and Bursner replied that they intended doing that as soon as possible by giving the people cards with the rates upon them and the rules governing the disposal of garbage. He then told how one expressman had charged a merchant 75 cents for removing his garbage and had told him that it would cost him 35 cents to have it burned.

The merchant paid the amount three times and the expressman only hauled one load to the furnace. The other two he dumped over the river bank, making 50 cents a load out of it.

There was absolutely no smell to the furnace when the board inspected it, but no action was taken on the matter and the board adjourned at 9.15 o'clock.

AFTER BIG SALARIES.

Stockholders of the Trenton Potteries Company Object to Paying a $10,000 Salary.

Trenton, June 7.—The officials of the Trenton Potteries company denied to a Trenton Times reporter that there was any truth in the rumor to the effect that some of the present management was to be ousted at the annual meeting of the stockholders.

The rumor was that President D. K.
Bayne and General Superintendent Young were to be deposed, or at least have a big lump deducted from their salaries on the score of economy. The former receives $10,000 per annum, and the latter half of that amount.
It is said that the movement was started by some of the stockholders in Connecticut and other places out of town.

President Bayne said that he had no thought that any changes would be made, or had even been talked of, unless it was among a few of the men holding but a few shares apiece. He said that the old board of directors would be elected and that the official management would remain as now.
He further said that no other business of importance would be transacted.

WILL BE REPORTED.

An Inhuman Driver Abused His Team of Horses This Morning.

A heavily laden moving wagon was being driven up Calcutta road this morning. The recent rains had made the roads quite heavy, and the driver was beating the horses and endeavoring to make them draw the heavy load up the hill without a rest. A lady living on the street noticed the man's cruelty and remonstrated with him on the course he was pursuing.
Instead of taking the words of the lady kindly he turned upon her with a storm of abuse, and she finally retreated into the house. It is probable that the case will be reported to the authorities, who will make the man answer for his actions.

All Future Games Will Be Played at Rock Springs Park.

And the Knowles, Taylor & Knowles' Club Decides to Stay In the League.

UNIFORMS WILL BE PURCHASED.

The Pottery league have stopped playing ball games at Columbian park and will play all games for the balance of the season at Rock Springs.

The inducements held out to them by the managers of Rock Springs were very good, and it is thought better crowds can be secured for the games, as it will take but eight minutes to reach Rock Springs after the cars are run to the Diamond. A committee was appointed to have the grounds placed in shape for the game Friday and at that time it will be decided where the grand stand will be located.

It was decided to let John Reark play with the K., T. & K. team, and the decision of that team in regard to withdrawing from the league was reconsidered and they will stay in the league the balance of the season.

Laughlin No. 1 notified the league that McCammon was working at their pottery and would hereafter be found in the lineup of their club. McCammon is an infielder of no mean ability.

The question of uniforms was discussed and Shell and Smurthwaite were appointed a committee to secure two complete sets of uniforms.

The Laughlin No. 2 and K., T. &
K. teams will cross bats tomorrow afternoon and on the result of the game depends whether K., T. & K. will join the teams that are now tied for second place, and Laughlin No. 2 go to first place, or whether Laughlin
No. 2 will go to third place and leave K., T. & K. in first place with three wins. The teams will lineup tomorrow as follows:

Laughlin No. 2—Baxter, catcher;
Lynch, pitcher; Allison, short; Mc-Cullough, first; Speight, second;
Smurthwaite, third; Little, left; D.
Wheatley, third; Wooliscraft, right.

K., T. & K.—Millward, catcher; Mc-Shane, pitcher; Kennedy, short; Winters, first; C. Reark, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Huff, right.

ganizer reported that he had organized the bakers since the last meeting of the council.

Washington, June 7.—The postmas-

it has been dispatched. Heretofore

the rule has been that such a letter could not be recalled without the consent of the addressee.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglars Steal Tools and Break into the Office at St. Clair—Got $12.

James Longnecker, the postmaster at the little postoffice at St. Clair, this county, discovered yesterday morning that the postoffice had been broken into during the night. About $12 in cash was taken from the drawer, besides a few stamps. The safe was not broken open and only the money in the cash drawer was taken. The postmaster kept a small stock of cigars and notions in connection with the office. Several boxes of cigars, a few pocket knives and other small articles to the value of $5 or $6 was stolen.

The burglars effected an entrance by prying open the front door. The tools with which they accomplished this were taken from the blacksmith shop of Ned Tolan the same night that the robbery took place.

Although no arrests have as yet been made, Mr. Longnecker, however, thinks he has a clue to the perpetrators of the deed and it is probable that the burglars will soon be in the hands of the authorities.

Laughlin No. 1 notified the league that McCammon was working at their pottery and would hereafter be found in the lineup of their club. McCammon is an infielder of no mean ability.

The question of uniforms was discussed and Shell and Smurthwaite were appointed a committee to secure two complete sets of uniforms.

The Laughlin No. 2 and K., T. & K. teams will cross bats tomorrow afternoon and on the result of the game depends whether K., T. & K. will join the teams that are now tied for second place, and Laughlin No. 2 go to first place, or whether Laughlin No. 2 will go to third place and leave K., T. & K. in first place with three wins. The teams will lineup tomorrow as follows:

K., T. & K.—Millward, catcher; McShane, pitcher; Kennedy, short; Winters, first; C. Reark, second; Davis, third; Trainor, left; Chadwick, middle; Huff, right.

TRADES COUNCIL

Registered Letter Regulations.

Washington, June 7.—The postmaster general has amended the postal regulations so as to permit the sender of a registered letter to recall it after it has been dispatched. Heretofore

the rule has been that such a letter could not be recalled without the consent of the addressee.

POSTOFFICE ROBBED.

Burglars Steal Tools and Break into the Office at St. Clair—Got $12.

James Longnecker, the postmaster at the little postoffice at St. Clair, this county, discovered yesterday morning that the postoffice had been broken into during the night. About $12 in cash was taken from the drawer, besides a few stamps. The safe was not broken open and only the money in the cash drawer was taken. The postmaster kept a small stock of cigars and notions in connection with the office. Several boxes of cigars, a few pocket knives and other small articles to the value of $5 or $6 was stolen.

The burglars effected an entrance by prying open the front door. The tools with which they accomplished this were taken from the blacksmith shop of Ned Tolan the same night that the robbery took place.

Although no arrests have as yet been made, Mr. Longenecker, however, thinks he has a clue to the perpetrators of the deed and it is probable that the burglars will soon be in the hands of the authorities.

The Author of "An American Hero" Failed to Appear When His Case Was Called Today.

In November, 1899, C. G. Ford brought claim before Squire Hill for the recovery from Wm. E. Morrow of $187.10, of which sum $157.10 was said to be due him as salary and $30 as royalty on his play, "An American Hero."

The company stranded while under the management of Morrow. Ford was an actor in the company and the author of the play. The case has been continued several times. It was to have had a hearing before Squire McCarron today, but on account of the whereabouts of the plaintiff not being known his attorney asked for a continuance of the case until July 7.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY

TENTH ANNUAL E. P. MEETING.

Mingo, June 7.—(Special.)—The seventeenth annual meeting of the Women's Home Missionary society of the Steubenville presbytery opened in Potter's chapel yesterday afternoon. Rev. J. A. Platts, formerly secretary of the East Liverpool Y. M. C. A., is pastor of this church.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. White, wife of Rev. Robert White. Prayer service was led by Mrs. J. F. Shepherd, Carrollton. The president made an interesting report upon the synod meeting, after which the convention heard a "Freedmen Teacher's letter" from Miss Susan H. Johnson, of the Mary Holmes seminary. "A Mountain White Teacher's letter" was read from Miss Carrie Pond, Hot Spring, N. C., followed by a synodical teacher's letter from Miss M. Cort, of Crockettville, Ky.

"The Christian Woman's Responsibility in Home Missions" was the subject of an earnest address by Mrs. Belle Miller, of Long Run. The afternoon session closed with a solo by Miss Ruth Thomas, of Mingo.

At the evening service Rev. J. A. Platts presided. A recitation, "How to Give Our Money to Home Missions," was followed by a most interesting address by Miss Flora Palmer, secretary of the Freedmen's work.

This morning the devotional half hour was led by Mrs. M. M. Peeler, of Mingo. The report of the Young People's work was read by Miss Nettie Erskine, of Steubenville; the report of the secretary of literature by Mrs. Telfer, Monroeville. Papers on "The Past of the Indians," by Mrs. Jennie Irwin, of Steubenville; "Piths and Points in Presbyterian Work," by Mrs. William Bullock; "What We Give," by Miss Elizabeth Johnson, of Steubenville; recitation, "Home Mission Work," by Jean Buchanan, of Mingo, and a paper on "Mountain Whites," by Miss Clara Hammond, Steubenville, completed the morning session.

The program for the afternoon session was as follows:

Devotional prayer service, Mrs. Dr. William Grimes, Steubenville; paper, Needles, Mrs. William Clark, Steubenville; an open parliament on methods (delegates taking part in suggestions), Mrs. J. Finley Laverty, Wellsville; paper, Lights and Shadows of Missionary Life, Miss Ada Noble, Wellsville; solo, Mrs. Rev. H. J. ATTORNEY ERSKINE IS INTERVIEWED

In Toronto Regarding the Tragic Death of Dr. L. O. Williams on the Stand

WAS GREATLY AFFECTED BY IT

Although the Court and Audience Acquitted Him of Any Undue Pressure

IN CROSS-EXAMINING WITNESS.

Attorney E. E. Erskine, of the Jefferson county bar, who was cross-examining Dr. L. O. Williams at the time of the doctor's seizure, has been interviewed by the Toronto Tribune regarding the circumstances attending the death of Dr. Williams.

Mr. Erskine was attorney for Mrs. Maggie McDole, of Toronto, who was sued by Dr. Williams for $44.84. Mr. Erskine said:

"This was a claim for services rendered the Liverpool & Wellsville Street Car company who had employed him to attend Miss McDole when she was injured in an accident on the line about five years ago. Miss McDole understood that the doctor was under the employ of the company and that he looked to the company for his pay. But it seems that the company neglected to settle the claim, and failed in the course of a year or two. He then began the present action against Miss McDole. The stock Miss McDole owned in a local building and loan society had been attached by the doctor in his effort to enforce his claim."

Continuing Mr. Erskine said: "The cross-examination had been in progress for about 20 minutes, the subject I was bringing out, in a rather mild but pressing way, was as to the doctor's original agreement about the services being rendered for the company, and had before him a letter in the physician's own handwriting that clearly showed the facts to be in favor of the girl. The witness answered pleasantly with a smile and no appreciable evidence of emotion or excitement."

Mr. Erskine says he continued to press his client's claim in the case in a gentlemanly and pleasant way, without a harsh word, and bringing from the witness, with a degree of hesitancy, admission as to the original understanding that perhaps he did not like to make, and which weakened his case. All at once the doctor's head dropped back onto the chair and the pallor of death came over his features, life having fled.

Mr. Erskine says that his feelings were beyond description. He immediately asked the justice if there had been anything in his conduct of the cross-examination that he could be blamed for. The justice and all present heartily assured Mr. Erskine that his action certainly in no way contributed to the death, as there was no excited or heated examination and nothing had transpired in any way to produce any undue excitement on the part of the unfortunate man.

The letter Mr. Erskine had in his hand at the time of making his cross-examination is as follows:

"East Liverpool, O., July 23, '97.

"Miss Maggie McDole, Toronto, O. "I have never received anything from the street railway company and never will, if they can help it; and, of course, you know we cannot compel you to come here to testify unless you volunteer to do so. I did write you once in regard to the matter and got no answer, probably the letter never reached you. I just want to ask you if I sue the company if you will come if I notify you as to the date of the trial? If not I will drop the matter where it is, but I feel as though I ought to be paid. Please reply as I want to collect this by the last week in August, if I can.

"Very respectfully,

I took medicines. My back ached just the same; grew stiff and lame when sitting long or when lying in bed, and sharp twinges of pain and other symptoms convinced me my kidneys were out of order. Always on the lookout for anything that might bring relief, when I heard Doan's kidney pills so highly spoken of I got a box at the W. & W. pharmacy. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

Is a genuine specific for diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. No other medicine has had so remarkable a success in curing diseases affecting the heart, liver and lungs, whenever these diseases, as is commonly the case, were caused by "weak stomach" and impure blood. Food imperfectly digested cannot be perfectly assimilated. "Golden Medical Discovery" restores the organs of digestion to perfect working order. Foul blood must result in a foul body. The "Discovery" purifies the blood and increases the activity of the blood-making glands, so increasing the quantity and quality of the blood supply. It has been tried by over half-a-million people. It has cured ninety-eight out of every hundred who have tried it.

WHY NOT LET IT CURE YOU?

SODA WATER HONESTY.

Many people are judges of soda water to the extent only of knowing whether or not they like it.

Others can readily tell good from poor, though not able to tell where the difference lies.

People not judges should buy where they can trust.

Perfect Soda Water is dependent on the honesty and conscience of the maker in many ways. Cleanliness inside the fountain for instance. Our fountain is looked after as though we had to do all the drinking ourselves.

Fight in Sandy Bottom.

The Amazons of Sandy Bottom became engaged in a conflict Tuesday afternoon. The cause of it all was a fight between the children of two families, the quarrel being taken up by their respective mothers. The details of the struggle are difficult to obtain, as it seems that the few who might have been spectators, took to the hills as fast as possible after it commenced. There seems to be no question, however, but that considerable hair pulling was engaged in. Neither side had a great advantage when Officers Hamilton and Torrence arrived, with the result of a forced truce between the parties.

Increasing Their Library.

The Sabbath school of the Second Presbyterian church voted $25 last Sunday morning to buy books for their library. The committee which was appointed to make the selection are choosing the books and the books will soon be in the library and ready for use.

Missionary Meeting.

The missionary meeting which was to have been held at the Second Presbyterian church today has been postponed until one week hence, June 14. The postponement was on account of a member from here who attended the missionary meeting at Mingo today.

Children's Day.

Preparation are being made for the children's day exercises to be held at the Second Presbyterian church next Sunday morning. A very nice program will be rendered.

A Success.

The social given by the ladies of the Second M. E. church Tuesday evening was a success in every way. The net proceeds were about $40.

To Rock Point.

Quite a number of East End people will go to Rock Point tomorrow on the excursion being given by the Epworth League.

Putting in Curbing.

Andrew Watson is having curbing put in along the Second avenue side of his property on Pennsylvania avenue.

Personals.

John G. Smith and son, Clarence, have returned from a visit with Pittsburgh and Allegheny friends.

Miss Lida Madison has gone to Salem to visit her parents.

Miss McDowell, of Cleveland, will assist at the junior league meeting next Saturday evening at M. E. church.

G. W. Johnson, of Pennsylvania avenue, has almost recovered from a month's siege of typhoid fever and has gone to his father's farm, near Empire, to recuperate.

Ira Clark is recovering from an attack of typhoid fever.

Rev. N. M. Crowe spent Tuesday visiting Pittsburgh friends.

Mrs. John W. Grant is in attendance at the missionary meeting at Mingo today.

Mrs. H. A. Weeks, who has been visiting friends in the East End, left today for Cincinnati, where she will join her husband, who has accepted a position with a wholesale house.

Death of Johanna Conklin.

Johanna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Conklin, of Oblique street, died last evening at 6 o'clock in her 17th year. Funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at the St. Aloysius church, after which the remains will be shipped to Wheeling for burial.

SOUTH SIDE.

The Mill Completed.

The work on the rolling mill plant has almost been completed, most of the men having been discharged. The few men who have been retained will complete the work by the end of this week, when the plant will be ready for operation. It is not likely to start until after July 1, when the new scale adopted at Indianapolis goes into effect.

Republican Delegates.

The Republican delegates from Hancock county to the convention at Weston are A. W. Brown, W. S. Brown, George Minesinger, Robert Lindsay, W. B. Stevenson, B. J. Campbell, Frank Bradley, Frank Wilkins and Lyman Stedman.

Camp Meeting.

It is probable that the Free Methodists will hold a camp meeting in the orchard beginning the latter part of this month. Arrangements will be completed at the quarterly conference to be held at Hookstown June 19 and 20.

At Washington School House.

Miss Celia Crill will preach at the Washington school house, about three miles from Chester, on Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. She will be in Chester in time to hold the regular services at the chapel here Sunday evening.

Station Arrives.

The wreck train was up from Steubenville yesterday unloading a car by means of a derrick. The car will be used as a station until the business increases to such an extent as to demand a larger one.

K. of C. at Rock Springs.

The Knights of Columbus have secured the exclusive use of the pavilion at Rock Springs park for their banquet next Sunday. Prof. Nowling's orchestra will furnish the music.

Cemetery Enclosed.

The work of fencing in the new Locust Heights cemetery, near the Allison school house, has almost been completed. The site is acknowledged to be an ideal one.

Democratic Convention.

The Hancock county convention, which will select candidates for the county officials on the Democratic ticket will meet at New Cumberland June 16.

Personals.

Prof. W. B. Stewart, of the Toronto school, was in Chester on business yesterday.

Clock Still Wanted.

The absence of a clock in the ticket office or waiting rooms at the Pennsylvania station was the topic of conversation of a number of traveling men at the depot this morning. It was the consensus of opinion that one ought to be placed there by the railroad company. One man suggested a remedy in case the company does not put a clock there soon. He proposed getting permission to place a box in the waiting room in which contributions might be dropped by the traveling public until a sufficient sum be realized to procure a time piece.

Every one agreed that some means ought to be adopted to secure the clock.

More Than 50 Trenton Pottery Employees Get Together for Benefit.

True American.

Trenton, June 7.—Those men employed in the local potteries as packers met at Murphy's hall last evening and effected an organization to be known as the packers' union of Trenton. More than 50 men were present and all took an enthusiastic interest in the meeting.

Rudolph Benz, general organizer of the American Federation of Labor, presided and addressed the meeting. A committee of the central labor union was present and assisted Mr. Benz in his work of organization. No business was transacted and the only object of the meeting was to effect organization.

The temporary officers elected were: President, Edward Alderson; vice president, George Taylor; secretary, Morris King; treasurer, Edward Floel. The charter will be received next Tuesday evening.

RESOLUTIONS OF REGRET

Adopted on the Death of Dr. L. O. Williams by the City Medical Fraternity.

At a called meeting of the medical fraternity of the city the following resolutions were adopted:

First, That in the death of Dr. L. O. Williams the community has lost a progressive, energetic, able and conscientious citizen, one who ever had the interest of the city at heart, and one whose advice and counsel will be missed by his collaborators.

Second, That the medical profession has lost a courteous gentleman, an able practitioner and a valued counselor.

Third, That the indigent poor, to whose wants he has ministered for the past several years, have lost a faithful servant and an ever ready friend.

Fourth, That we extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy and commend them to the Great Physician who heals all wounds.

OHIO IN CONGRESS.

The most important literary-historical work of this decade of special interest to the people of the Buckeye state is "Ohio in Congress," publication of which, in serial form, begins today in these columns. It is fitting that, as Ohio stands upon the threshold of her second century of statehood, the services of her sons in the national congress during her first century should be commemorated by some such competent work as this. Monuments of stone and bronze to the heroes of a commonwealth or a nation are well enough in their way, but the best monuments to human greatness in the world's history are the recorded deeds and thoughts and words of the world's history-makers. Such a monument to the memory of many of Ohio's best loved sons is this tribute to her national lawmakers.

The vast labor involved in this serial and the immense fund of material which it brings compactly before the reader would justify a voluminous work. The author's aim, however, has been to condense and to avoid elaboration. The first chapters will indicate how well he has succeeded in this regard, and are a guarantee of the terse treatment with which he has handled his subject from beginning to end. The result is an invaluable summarization of the history of Ohio's progress during the nineteenth century, with biographical sketches, in the order of their election, of 29 of Ohio's United States senators and 388 representatives in congress. Portraits of the more distinguished accompany their biographies. Reference to this work will instantly answer any question which may arise as to the personnel of Ohio's representation in congress during the past 100 years; the nature and extent of the public services of her sons in congress, their places of residence, personal and domestic relations, and all facts material to their public careers. The work is essentially a history—or a collection of histories—absolutely free from politics or prejudice. It presents facts, not argument.

No outline within the scope of an editorial announcement can convey to the reader a just appreciation of the value of "Ohio in Congress" as a work appealing to the intelligence of a modern newspaper's constituents. The publication at this time, on the eve of the state's great centennial anniversary, is most appropriate, but at any time it would be recognized as a remarkable contribution to our fund of knowledge touching those subjects which excite the pride and inspire the reverence of Ohio-born people.

We earnestly commend this feature to our readers, not only for the perusal which contributes to entertainment, but for the more serious business of mental culture. It deserves to be read, and, following that, to be preserved.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES

Furnish Amusement for Robinson and Kossuth Street People

Last Evening.

Yesterday afternoon two brothers, who reside on Robinson street, got into a quarrel. The affair started over a small son of one of them and the wife was also mixed up in the fracas. The loud talk could be heard for a block and finally the parties mixed up. The battle closely resembled a chicken fight and neither of the men were hit. Finally one of them pulled a large knife and said what he would do, but he didn't do it. The quarrel ended with dire threats and the crowd that had gathered expecting to see bloodshed were disappointed.

He was fairly well under the influence of liquor as he came down Kossuth street last night closely pursued by his faithful wife, who was upbraiding him at the top of her voice. She wanted him to go home, and he wanted her to go home and not follow him. Both of them seemed unconscious of the fact that they were amusing a whole lot of people and talked loud and strong. She told him if he didn't go home he would get run in. He defied her to call the patrol and said he would stand at the corner while she got the wagon. She didn't want him arrested and told him so. The couple disappeared around the corner of Broadway telling each other how it was and there is now a lot of people who would like to know how it all ended. It probably ended like all family quarrels by the people making up and going home.

HAUNTED CITY HALL.

Woman With a Tale of Woe Worried the Mayor, the Chief and the City Clerk.

There was not an arrest last evening and the jail would be empty this morning if it were not for the presence of James McCormick.

Complaints were numerous, however, as one woman kept the mayor and marshal busy. She called first yesterday afternoon and the mayor listened to a story of how she had been robbed of two $10 bills. Later in the afternoon she arrived again, and this time her loss had dwindled down to the insignificant sum of $1.50. The mayor heard with patience once more and was surprised when she appeared again to inform him that she hadn't lost a cent, but she told him a new story about the party she wanted arrested this time. She came back again after supper and wanted to see Chief Thompson, but he was fortunate enough to be out. Bright and early this morning she was on hand and met Clerk Hanley, who was very much astonished at her appearance. Later she related her tale of woe to Chief Thompson.

A small boy and a big dog called at the mayor's office this morning, and the boy stated that his aunt wanted the dog shot, as it had bitten a girl about one year ago. He said the dog was playing with another dog yesterday and later the other dog went mad and was shot. The boy was told to take his dog home, tie it up and keep it a month to see if it went mad. There was one happy youngster around city hall when the boy received this information.

OHIO IN CONGRESS.

The most important literary-historical work of this decade of special interest to the people of the Buckeye state is "Ohio in Congress," publication of which, in serial form, begins today in these columns. It is fitting that, as Ohio stands upon the threshold of her second century of statehood, the services of her sons in the national congress during her first century should be commemorated by some such competent work as this. Monuments of stone and bronze to the heroes of a commonwealth or a nation are well enough in their way, but the best monuments to human greatness in the world's history are the recorded deeds and thoughts and words of the world's history-makers. Such a monument to the memory of many of Ohio's best loved sons is this tribute to her national lawmakers.

The vast labor involved in this serial and the immense fund of material which it brings compactly before the reader would justify a voluminous work. The author's aim, however, has been to condense and to avoid elaboration. The first chapters will indicate how well he has succeeded in this regard, and are a guarantee of the terse treatment with which he has handled his subject from beginning to end. The result is an invaluable summarization of the history of Ohio's progress during the nineteenth century, with biographical sketches, in the order of their election, of 29 of Ohio's United States senators and 388 representatives in congress. Portraits of the more distinguished accompany their biographies. Reference to this work will instantly answer any question which may arise as to the personnel of Ohio's representation in congress during the past 100 years; the nature and extent of the public services of her sons in congress, their places of residence, personal and domestic relations, and all facts material to their public careers. The work is essentially a history—or a collection of histories—absolutely free from politics or prejudice. It presents facts, not argument.

No outline within the scope of an editorial announcement can convey to the reader a just appreciation of the value of "Ohio in Congress" as a work appealing to the intelligence of a modern newspaper's constituents. The publication at this time, on the eve of the state's great centennial anniversary, is most appropriate, but at any time it would be recognized as a remarkable contribution to our fund of knowledge touching those subjects which excite the pride and inspire the reverence of Ohio-born people.

We earnestly commend this feature to our readers, not only for the perusal which contributes to entertainment, but for the more serious business of mental culture. It deserves to be read, and, following that, to be preserved.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES

Furnish Amusement for Robinson and Kossuth Street People
Last Evening.

Yesterday afternoon two brothers, who reside on Robinson street, got into a quarrel. The affair started over a small son of one of them and the wife was also mixed up in the fracas. The loud talk could be heard for a block and finally the parties mixed up. The battle closely resembled a chicken fight and neither of the men were hit. Finally one of them pulled a large knife and said what he would do, but he didn't do it. The quarrel ended with dire threats and the crowd that had gathered expecting to see bloodshed were disappointed.

He was fairly well under the influence of liquor as he came down Kossuth street last night closely pursued by his faithful wife, who was upbraiding him at the top of her voice. She wanted him to go home, and he wanted her to go home and not follow him. Both of them seemed unconscious of the fact that they were amusing a whole lot of people and talked loud and strong. She told him if he didn't go home he would get run in. He defied her to call the patrol and said he would stand at the corner while she got the wagon. She didn't want him arrested and told him so. The couple disappeared around the corner of Broadway telling each other how it was and there is now a lot of people who would like to know how it all ended. It probably ended like all family quarrels by the people making up and going home.

HAUNTED CITY HALL.

Woman With a Tale of Woe Worried the Mayor, the Chief and the City Clerk.

There was not an arrest last evening and the jail would be empty this morning if it were not for the presence of James McCormick.

Complaints were numerous, however, as one woman kept the mayor and marshal busy. She called first yesterday afternoon and the mayor listened to a story of how she had been robbed of two $10 bills. Later in the afternoon she arrived again, and this time her loss had dwindled down to the insignificant sum of $1.50. The mayor heard with patience once more and was surprised when she appeared again to inform him that she hadn't lost a cent, but she told him a new story about the party she wanted arrested this time. She came back again after supper and wanted to see Chief Thompson, but he was fortunate enough to be out. Bright and early this morning she was on hand and met Clerk Hanley, who was very much astonished at her appearance. Later she related her tale of woe to Chief Thompson.

A small boy and a big dog called at the mayor's office this morning, and the boy stated that his aunt wanted the dog shot, as it had bitten a girl about one year ago. He said the dog was playing with another dog yesterday and later the other dog went mad and was shot. The boy was told to take his dog home, tie it up and keep it a month to see if it went mad. There was one happy youngster around city hall when the boy received this information.

Dropped the Roll In an Alley
In Lisbon.

WILLIAM CROSS GRABBED IT

Hired a Rig and Hiked to Leetonia
Where the Chief of Police

AND RESCUED $54 OF THE WAD.

Lisbon, June 7.—(Special.)—John Stiver, an aged resident of Columbiana, was in Lisbon yesterday trying to carry a jag and a $60 roll at the same time. He ran across a young man named William Cross, of this city, who inveigled him into an alley and relieved him of his roll. Cross then hired a livery rig and started for Leetonia. Deputy Sheriff Bick was notified of the robbery and telephoned Chief of Police Lanahan, of Leetonia, to be on the lookout for Cross. When the young man arrived there he was arrested by Chief Lanahan, confessed and turned over $54 of the money. He was lodged in the county jail last night.

BARKEEPER SPEAKS.

He Has a Nice Little Story to Communicate to Owners and Proprietors of Saloons.

Editor News Review:—I am aware of the fact that you are forermost the saloons and down on the liquor traffic and licensing of the sale of intoxicants. I do not know that you will publish my lame article, as I am merely a barkeeper; but I have been told that you will give even a saloonkeeper or a barkeeper of a saloon fair play and a hearing. So here goes:

I have been a pottery worker and a strong advocate of unionism. I do not believe that a workman should toil longer than nine hours out of every twenty-four hours. The union workmen in our potteries work but about nine hours. The same rule holds good for the clerks in our stores and business houses. They tell me that men and women in the printing offices work but nine hours out of twenty-four hours, and in some cases but eight hours in the twenty-four. This is unionism and fair play and meets the approval of the true friends of the toilers.

How about the barkeeper? The saloonkeeper is always a howling unionist, and he blackguards the clothier, shoe merchant, dry goods merchant, who do not shut up at the proper hour and give their employes a square deal. And yet this same saloonkeeper demands that his barkeepers shall toil from fourteen to sixteen hours out of every twenty-four, making his life a burden—making the poor fellow a very slave. My employer will give me fits and perhaps discharge me if he discovers that I have written this. You have my true name, as I know that you will not publish anonymous communications. But I know that you will not betray me. I know, intimately, some of your close personal friends, and they assure me you will keep my identity a secret. Let me wind this communication up with the following:

Most of March's Men—Guesswork
as to Aguinaldo.

MANILA, June 7.—A dispatch from Candon, dated June 4, said: Major P.
C. March's men, of the Thirty-third regiment, returned to Candon that day by steamer from Aparri. A majority of the men were ready for the hospital.
They were thin and weak, having traveled about 250 miles in the mountains, during which they suffered greatly from hunger. Of the 50 horses which started with the battalion 13 survived. The remainer died on the march or fell into canyons. The battalion practically collapsed at Piat, about 30 miles from Tuguegarao, as the result of fevers and exhaustion. Eighty-seven of the men were conveyed from Piat to Muguigarao in bull carts, and those falling on the way were carried in litters by Igorottes with the column.

The officers accompanying Major March were Captains Henry L. Jenkins-on and Edward Davis, Lieutenants Carroll Power and Frank L. Case, and Dr. John O. Greenwalt, assistant surgeon. They said it was all guess work as to whether Aguinaldo was shot. Before the Americans struck Sagat the insurgent chief divided his forces into parties of ten, following different trails.
The officer shot was probably Aguinaldo's secretary or adjutant. The report among the natives of the region was that Aguinaldo was wounded in the shoulder.

The papers secured showed that nearly all the presidents installed by the Americans in General Young's territory were treacherous and had been making regular reports to Aguinaldo for the disposition and movements of the American troops, and they had been collecting and forwarding taxes. The captured papers also proved the disloyalty of the native telegraph operators whom the Americans retained on the Cayan valley line.

When Tirona surrendered the Filipino forces in that section, these operators professed loyalty and took the oath of allegiance. But it was shown that they had been sending Aguinaldo copies of important telegrams exchanged between the American officials.

Letters were also found relating to large contributions forwarded to Aguinaldo from Spanish and other foreign business men.

AGUINALDO'S ASSERTION DENIED.

General Greene and Other Americans Refuted His Story.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The president sent to the senate a reply to the statement made by Aguinaldo in his "true version of the Philippine revolution." In that Aguinaldo said, among other things, that the Spaniards had captured six guns from the American soldiers in front of Manila before the surrender of that city to the American forces and that they were recaptured by the Filipinos and returned to the Americans.
Secretary Root referred the matter to General Greene, who referred Aguinaldo's statement to the battalion and battery commanders and he forwarded their replies in refutation of the charge.
General Greene himself said:

The statements made by Aguinaldo are absolutely without foundation. Each and every one of them is untrue. The United States did not fall back. Did not abandon a single rifle or a single field gun. Did not make a precipitate retreat. The Filipinos did not rush to our assistance, did not recapture the rifles and field guns and did not return them to the Americans. The Filipinos took no part in the engagements between the Spaniards and American troops. Every single statement in the extract quoted in your letter is false.

Declaring It Necessary to Improve the Calcutta Road From Wall Street to Riverview Cemetery.

RESOLVED by the council of the city

of East Liverpool, Ohio, two thirds of all the members elected thereto con-curring, that it is necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve the Calcutta road from Wall street to the Riverview cemetery in the following manner:

First, From Wall street to the north line of McKinnon avenue the east thirty feet of the street shall be graded to the grade established.

Second, The curbing shall be set on the east curb line and a roadway of 16 feet in width shall be paved along next the east sidewalk.

Third, From McKinnon avenue to Riverview cemetery the west thirty feet of the said street shall be graded in such manner as to cut seven feet off top of the summit of what is known as McKinnon's hill, and the curb shall be set on the west curb line and a roadway nine (9) feet in width shall be paved along next the west sidewalk.

The roadway shall be composed of the best quality of roadway paving bricks set on edge.

Fourth, Whatever else is necessary the way of drainage and broken stones to complete the job shall be done.

The work shall be done in accordance with the plans and specifications
on file in the office of the city engineer
and under his supervision.

The cost and expense of the said improvement, except so much thereof as is required by law to be placed on the general tax list, with such further sums as council may elect to collect by general taxation, shall be levied and assessed on the abutting lots and lands and such adjacent contiguous and other benefitted lots and lands as council shall specify in the ordinance authorizing the said improvement.

The said assessments shall be collected in five (5) annual installments, if deferred, and bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the same, and the City Clerk is hereby instructed to have this resolution published in a newspaper of general circulation within the corporation and the City Marshal is hereby authorized and instructed to serve notice of the passage of this resolution on the proper persons and make return as required by law.

Passed this 4th day of June, 1900.

Pennsylvania Avenue From Lot 1589 to the East End Public School Building.

RESOLVED by the council of the city
of East Liverpool, Ohio, two-thirds of
all the members elected thereto con-curring, that it is necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve Pennsylvania avenue between the points above named in the following manner:

First, A roadway fifteen feet in width shall be graded along the north sidewalk to an established grade.

Second, The said roadway shall be covered to a depth of fourteen (14) inches with finely broken stone and well compacted by rolling.

Third, Upon the broken stone bed thus made shall be spread a layer of fine gravel nine inches thick which shall be well compacted, also by rolling with heavy road roller, and whatever else in the way of drainage and in the way of drainage and broken stones to complete the job shall be done.

The work shall be done in accordance with the plans and specifications
on file in the office of the city engineer
and under his supervision.

The cost and expense of the said improvement except so much thereof as is required by law to be with such further sums as the council may elect to collect by placed on the general tax list, assessed on such abutting and bounding adjacent, contiguous and other benefitted lots and lands as council shall specify in the ordinance authorizing the said improvement. The assessment therefor shall be collected in five annual installments if deferred and the same collected as required by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the said assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance.

The City Clerk is hereby instructed to have this resolution published and the City Marshal is hereby authorized
and instructed to serve notice of the passage of this resolution on the

Pleasant Street From Culvert Over
Carpenter's Run to Lisbon Street.

RESOLVED by the council of the city
of East Liverpool, Ohio, two-thirds of
all the members elected thereto con-curring, that it is deemed necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve Pleasant street between the points above named, by grading the same to the established grade. The work shall be done in accordance with the profiles, plans and specifications
on file in the office of the city engineer.
The expense of the said improvement shall be assessed per foot front on the property bounding and abutting thereon, in accordance with the law and ordinances on the subject of assessments. The assessments therefor to be paid in five annual installments, if deferred, and the same collected as provided by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds may be issued in anticipation of the collection of the assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued, and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance, and the Clerk is hereby directed to cause this resolution to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the corporation for a period of two consecutive weeks, and the City Marshal is hereby instructed to notify the proper persons of the passage of this resolution and make return as required by law.

COULDN'T CARRY JAG AND $60 ROLL

So John Stiver, of Columbiana,
Dropped the Roll In an Alley
In Lisbon.

WILLIAM CROSS GRABBED IT

Hired a Rig and Hiked to Leetonia
Where the Chief of Police

Lisbon, June 7.—(Special.)—John Stiver, an aged resident of Columbiana, was in Lisbon yesterday trying to carry a jag and a $60 roll at the same time. He ran across a young man named William Cross, of this city, who inveigled him into an alley and relieved him of his roll. Cross then hired a livery rig and started for Leetonia. Deputy Sheriff Bick was notified of the robbery and telephoned Chief of Police Lanahan, of Leetonia, to be on the lookout for Cross. When the young man arrived there he was arrested by Chief Lanahan, confessed and turned over $54 of the money. He was lodged in the county jail last night.

BARKEEPER SPEAKS.

He Has a Nice Little Story to Communicate to Owners and Proprietors of Saloons.

Editor News Review:—I am aware of the fact that you are foremost the saloons and down on the liquor traffic and licensing of the sale of intoxicants. I do not know that you will publish my lame article, as I am merely a barkeeper; but I have been told that you will give even a saloonkeeper or a barkeeper of a saloon fair play and a hearing. So here goes:

I have been a pottery worker and a strong advocate of unionism. I do not believe that a workman should toil longer than nine hours out of every twenty-four hours. The union workmen in our potteries work but about nine hours. The same rule holds good for the clerks in our stores and business houses. They tell me that men and women in the printing offices work but nine hours out of twenty-four hours, and in some cases but eight hours in the twenty-four. This is unionism and fair play and meets the approval of the true friends of the toilers.

How about the barkeeper? The saloonkeeper is always a howling unionist, and he blackguards the clothier, shoe merchant, dry goods merchant, who do not shut up at the proper hour and give their employees a square deal. And yet this same saloonkeeper demands that his barkeepers shall toil from fourteen to sixteen hours out of every twenty-four, making his life a burden—making the poor fellow a very slave. My employer will give me fits and perhaps discharge me if he discovers that I have written this. You have my true name, as I know that you will not publish anonymous communications. But I know that you will not betray me. I know, intimately, some of your close personal friends, and they assure me you will keep my identity a secret. Let me wind this communication up with the following:

as to Aguinaldo.

MANILA, June 7.—A dispatch from Candon, dated June 4, said: Major P. C. March's men, of the Thirty-third regiment, returned to Candon that day by steamer from Aparri. A majority of the men were ready for the hospital. They were thin and weak, having traveled about 250 miles in the mountains, during which they suffered greatly from hunger. Of the 50 horses which started with the battalion 13 survived. The remainder died on the march or fell into canyons. The battalion practically collapsed at Piat, about 30 miles from Tuguegarao, as the result of fevers and exhaustion. Eighty-seven of the men were conveyed from Piat to Maguegarao in bull carts, and those falling on the way were carried in litters by Igorottes with the column.

The officers accompanying Major March were Captains Henry L. Jenkinson and Edward Davis, Lieutenants Carroll Power and Frank L. Case, and Dr. John O. Greenwalt, assistant surgeon. They said it was all guesswork as to whether Aguinaldo was shot. Before the Americans struck Sagat the insurgent chief divided his forces into parties of ten, following different trails. The officer shot was probably Aguinaldo's secretary or adjutant. Thereport among the natives of the region was that Aguinaldo was wounded in the shoulder.

The papers secured showed that nearly all the presidents installed by the Americans in General Young's territory were treacherous and had been making regular reports to Aguinaldo for the disposition and movements of the American troops, and they had been collecting and forwarding taxes. The captured papers also proved the disloyalty of the native telegraph operators whom the Americans retained on the Cayan valley line.

When Tirona surrendered the Filipino forces in that section, these operators professed loyalty and took the oath of allegiance. But it was shown that they had been sending Aguinaldo copies of important telegrams exchanged between the American officials.

Letters were also found relating to large contributions forwarded to Aguinaldo from Spanish and other foreign business men.

AGUINALDO'S ASSERTION DENIED.

General Greene and Other Americans Refuted His Story.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The president sent to the senate a reply to the statement made by Aguinaldo in his "true version of the Philippine revolution." In that Aguinaldo said, among other things, that the Spaniards had captured six guns from the American soldiers in front of Manila before the surrender of that city to the American forces and that they were recaptured by the Filipinos and returned to the Americans. Secretary Root referred the matter to General Greene, who referred Aguinaldo's statement to the battalion and battery commanders and he forwarded their replies in refutation of the charge. General Greene himself said:

The statements made by Aguinaldo are absolutely without foundation. Each and every one of them is untrue. The United States did not fall back. Did not abandon a single rifle or a single field gun. Did not make a precipitate retreat. The Filipinos did not rush to our assistance, did not recapture the rifles and field guns and did not return them to the Americans. The Filipinos took no part in the engagements between the Spaniards and American troops. Every single statement in the extract quoted in your letter is false.

RESOLUTION

Declaring It Necessary to Improve the Calcutta Road From Wall Street to Riverview Cemetery.

RESOLVED by the council of the city

of East Liverpool, Ohio, two thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring, that it is necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve the Calcutta road from Wall street to the Riverview cemetery in the following manner:

First, From Wall street to the north line of McKinnon avenue the east thirty feet of the street shall be graded to the grade established.

Second, The curbing shall be set on the east curb line and a roadway of 16 feet in width shall be paved along next the east sidewalk.

Third, From McKinnon avenue to Riverview cemetery the west thirty of the said street shall be graded in such manner as to cut seven feet off top of the summit of what is known as McKinnon's hill, and the curb shall be set on the west curb line and a roadway nine (9) feet in width shall be paved along next the west sidewalk.

The roadway shall be composed of the best quality of roadway paving bricks set on edge.

Fourth, Whatever else is necessary the way of drainage and broken stones to complete the job shall be done.

The cost and expense of the said improvement, except so much thereof as is required by law to be placed on the general tax list, with such further sums as council may elect to collect by general taxation, shall be levied and assessed on the abutting lots and lands and such adjacent contiguous and other benefitted lots and lands as council shall specify in the ordinance authorizing the said improvement.

The said assessments shall be collected in five (5) annual installments, if deferred, and bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the same, and the City Clerk is hereby instructed to have this resolution published in a newspaper of general circulation within the corporation and the City Marshal is hereby authorized and instructed to serve notice of the passage of this resolution on the proper persons and make return as required by law.

RESOLUTION

Declaring It Necessary to Improve Pennsylvania Avenue From Lot 1589 to the East End Public School Building.

RESOLVED by the council of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, two-thirds of all the members elected thereto concurring, that it is necessary, and its intention is hereby declared, to improve Pennsylvania avenue between the points above named in the following manner:

First, A roadway fifteen feet in width shall be graded along the north sidewalk to an established grade.

Second, The said roadway shall be covered to a depth of fourteen (14) inches with finely broken stone and well compacted by rolling.

Third, Upon the broken stone bed thus made shall be spread a layer of fine gravel nine inches thick which shall be well compacted, also by rolling with heavy road roller, and whatever else in the way of drainage and in the way of drainage and broken stones to complete the job shall be done.

The work shall be done in accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the city engineer and under his supervision.

The cost and expense of the said improvement except so much thereof as is required by law to be with such further sums as the council may elect to collect by placed on the general tax list, assessed on such abutting and bounding adjacent, contiguous and other benefitted lots and lands as council shall specify in the ordinance authorizing the said improvement. The assessment therefor shall be collected in five annual installments if deferred and the same collected as required by law and in the assessing ordinance hereafter to be passed. Bonds will be issued in anticipation of the collection of the said assessments unless the property owners pay their assessments before the bonds are issued and within the time prescribed in the assessing ordinance.

The City Clerk is hereby instructed to have this resolution published and the City Marshal is hereby authorized and instructed to serve notice of the passage of this resolution on the proper persons and make return as required by law.

CRITICAL IN CHINA.

Affairs Have Reached an Alarming Stage.

INTERVENTION MAY BE NEEDED.

One Report Said Japan Prevented the Landing of Russian Troops—Another, That China Denied the Russian Minister Had Made Such an Offer.

LONDON, June 7.—Affairs in China are gradually working up a crisis of the first magnitude. The morning papers think that the British squadron is recognized as inferior in strength to the Russian, as well as to the Japanese. The Daily Telegraph says:

"We regret that Great Britain is too much occupied in South Africa to settle the Chinese business with a strong hand."

It is reported that intervention in some form is necessary.

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, telegraphing yesterday, said in part:

"Not one Boxer has yet been arrested or punished. Anxiety is increasing regarding the fate of the missionaries at the various stations. At the meeting of the Tsung Li Yamen yesterday (Tuesday) the Japanese minister discussed the offer of M. de Giers, Russian minister, to give assistance of the Russian troops in quelling disturbances. The Tsung Li Yamen denied that the offer had been made, but Russia did make it and the Chinese government is quite capable of accepting such assistance."

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, in a long mail article, dated April 25, which deals with Russo-Japanese rivalry in the far east, expresses the opinion that war between the two powers is inevitable and that it cannot be long delayed because of Russia's immense Chinese designs and of the hatred the Japanese feel for Russia when they see her enjoying the fruits of Japan's victorious war to the detriment of Japan.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—In consequence of the representations of Japan, the landing of a large Russian force at Taku is alleged to have been stopped. It is believed here that should Russia persist in sending a preponderating military force to the front a collision with Japan will inevitably result.

Alarming reports are current here of the hurried completion of the mobilization of the Japanese.

The Russian minister at Pekin, M. de Giers, made another attempt to induce the Chinese foreign office to formally request Russian assistance to restore order, but the offer has not yet been accepted.

ANOTHER WARSHIP

ORDERED TO CHINA.

A Gunboat to Be Sent Which Can Ascend the Pei-Ho River to Tsin Tsin.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Minister Conger cabled that the situation was worse at Pekin, and this statement, taken in connection with Admiral Kempff's alarming cablegram of the day before announcing that an engagement had been begun, had an effect on the state department. A cablegram was sent to Admiral Remey, at Manila, directing him to dispatch at once to Admiral Kempff's command the gunboat Helena, or if that craft was not at Manila and ready for immediate service, then some craft of correspondingly light draft and power. Admiral Kempff's flagship, the Newark, cannot ascend the river safely beyond the Taku forts, near the entrance, but the little Helena, drawing only 11 feet, can safely ascend to Tsin Tsin, 40 miles above. She was specially designed for service in these Chinese rivers. She carries a battery particularly adapted to dealing with such half organized mobs as the "Boxers." Besides her eight 4-inch rapid fire guns, she carries four six-pounder rapid fire, four one-pounder rapid fire, two Colts and one 3-inch rapid fire field gun.

WOMEN OUTRAGED.

Fearful Crime Charged to the Boxers, Afterward Murdered the Husbands.

LONDON, June 7.—A special from Shanghai, dated June 6, said the members of the majority of the legations at Pekin, including the members of the British legation, were sending their families away. It is also said that several prominent Chinese residents are leaving the city.

There is an unconfirmed report that two Russian engineers have been murdered at Yu Chow Fu, northwest of Port

Arthur, after their wives had been outraged.

The total damage done to the Chinese railroads by the Boxers is now estimated at $5,000,000.

FOUGHT WITH BOXERS.

Imperial Troops Said to Have Given Them Battle—Many Persons Were Killed on Both Sides.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—The soldiers dispatched to attack the Boxers have fought an engagement quite close to Pekin. Many were killed on both sides.

Violent dissensions are reported to exist between the Chinese commander-in-chief of the forces, Jung-Iu, and Prince Ching-Tuan, who, in accordance with the wishes of the dowager empress, is strongly supporting the cause of the Boxers.

The mobs who murdered the English missionaries, Robinson and Norman, mutilated and disemboweled the bodies. The station at Yan-Tin, about three miles from Pekin, was burned.

The British minister, Sir Claude M. MacDonald, was reported to be quite ill.

HOME MISSION SOCIETY.

The Seventy-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Congregational Organization. Women's Department Also Met.

DETROIT, June 7.—The first day's business sessions of the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Congregational Home Missionary society opened with the reading of a paper, entitled "Five Points," in which Rev. Washington Choate, D. D., secretary of the society, presented some of the salient features of the society's work.

General O. O. Howard, president of the society, followed with a brief energetic address.

Later, the eighteenth annual meeting of the woman's department of the Home Missionary society was held. Miss Lydia Hartig, of Vermont, told "How We Solve the Problem in Rural New England;" Mrs. James L. Hill, of Massachusetts, spoke on "Our Boys and the Future of Home Missions," and Rev. U. G. Pich, of North Dakota, related some of his "Frontier Experiences."

DEWEY ENTERTAINED.

Reunion of Old Soldiers and Sailors and Barbecue—Visited Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were welcomed by a large crowd here.

During the morning hours a reunion of old soldiers and sailors was held at the Driving park, Mayor Swartz calling the assemblage to order and delivering an address of welcome.

About noon occurred the barbecue and carnival of sports, and the latter was in progress when Admiral Dewey arrived at the Driving park. After about an hour there the admiral returned to his hotel, stopping at the Deaf and Dumb institution, where a special program had been prepared. Last evening he attended a campfire and later the Press club smoker.

Pittsburgher Nominated For Vice President.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The Socialist Labor party, in convention in this city, nominated Joseph F. Maloney, of Lynn, Mass., for president of the United States, and Val Rammel, of Pittsburgh, for vice president.

Missouri Democrats nominated Dockery for governor.

Idaho Democratic convention selected a delegation friendly to Governor Steunenberg.

Thomas Norton, Ohio, confirmed as consul, at Harput, Turkey.

President McKinley was at the capitol and signed some of the bills passed.

A movement to organize national negro political party started, at Philadelphia.

General Wheeler will be given no military assignment under his commission of brigadier general of regulars, but will be placed on the retired list for age within the next few days.

Lawrence Lord, Fairview, Erie county, Pa., found on Philadelphia street, skull fractured. Died in hospital. Foul play suspected.

Idaho Democrats endorsed Bryan and Lewis for national ticket.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia—Showers and probably thunderstorms today; tomorrow fair and cooler; high southerly, shifting to westerly winds.

HOLT THE NOMINEE.

Heads the Democratic Ticket in West Virginia.

A LIVELY CONVENTION HELD.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 7.—The Democratic convention here held three sessions. The third session was an all night performance. Neither parliamentary rules nor those of force could preserve order. When the last session began there was nothing to do except adopt the reports on credentials and resolutions and there was no opposition to either report, so that nominating speeches were soon begun for the nomination of governor. The hall had been packed for favorites, and when the drift was tending their way these outsiders resorted to all sorts of disturbances. It was almost midnight before order was restored.

In the midst of this uproar and confusion the vote was disputed and changes were made indiscriminately and endlessly. Finally there was a second call of the counties for changes only when the vote of Flourney and Lewis changed either to Holt or Tavenner, the former getting the best of the changes, as Tavenner was the leader at the end of the first call of the counties.

Judge Holt was nominated for governor. He is a prominent attorney and was on the ticket for the supreme bench four years. He is 40 years old and a brilliant speaker. He made a most stirring speech of acceptance, after which the convention adjourned at 12:20 a. m. until 10 a. m. today.

The platform adopted endorsed Bryan and the Chicago platform, and pledged support to the Kansas City ticket and platform. It denounced trusts, imperialism, the Porto Rican tariff, the Philippine war, militarism, the recent financial act of congress, the increase of the standing army and the administrations of President McKinley and Governor Atkinson. Sympathy was expressed with the Boers, the Nicaragua canal was strongly favored, and a strong resolution was adopted against recognizing the old Virginia debt in any form.

TO PRAY AT THE CONVENTION.

Baptist Minister, About 80 Years Old, Selected For Philadelphia Gathering.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Rev. Edward H. Levy, D. D., of this city, received official notification of his selection as chaplain to the national Republican convention. The information came in a communication from Chairman Hanna, of the national committee. When Dr. Levy will have fulfilled his offices he will bear the unique distinction of having acted as chaplain of two Republican national conventions, 44 years apart. Dr. Levy, in 1856, acted as chaplain of the Fremont convention, held in this city at Musical Fund hall. He is a Baptist clergyman and is about 80 years of age.

KERN NAMED FOR GOVERNOR.

Bryan and Chicago Platform Endorsed by Indiana Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7.—The Democratic state convention nominated John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, for governor and a full state ticket.

The platform, as presented, endorsed William Jennings Bryan for the presidency, reaffirmed the Chicago platform and omitted mention of the ratio of 16 to 1. Its reading was followed by a burst of tumultuous approval and the platform was adopted unanimously.

Delegates Instructed For Bryan.

Three Killed by a Train.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Three men were killed by being run over by a passenger train on the Long Island railroad, near Laurel Hill, L. I. They were Matthew Clark, aged 42, laborer; Daniel Halpin, age 22, and Patrick Ryan, age 42, single. The men were walking on the track when struck.

British Captured by Boers.

MAZERU, Basutoland, June 7.—A trooper of Brabant's horse said that Boers took 54 British prisoners, including an officer, whom they released conditionally. The officer estimated that the Boer forces between Ficksburg and Bethlehem numbered 6,000 men.

NEW YORK, June 7.—About midway of Wednesday's session of the Stock Exchange there was a rise of 3 points in New Jersey Central on rumors of control by Baltimore and Ohio. This incident offered an isolated feature of strength in Wednesday's market and caused the only brief respite from the mood of depression which prevailed all day. The most effective single factor was the warlike development in China. News of the domestic iron trade was confused, reports of declining prices being mingled with reports of reopening of some mills recently closed down. Tennessee Coal was the weakest of the Steel group and lost 2 1/4. In the general list prices were weak throughout, but stocks which have shown some strength recently were most affected. Atchison preferred, St. Paul, Baltimore and Ohio, Union Pacific and Louisville were examples.

There is growing uneasiness in speculative circles over the prospects of the wheat crop, based upon the low condition reported Wednesday from Ohio and the continued drouth in the northwest. The convening of the joint passenger committee in this city and the meeting today of railroad presidents to attempt an adjustment of the rate disturbances calls attention to that source of danger to values of railroad securities. The money market continues almost unprecedently easy, in spite of the taking up by the sub-treasury from the banks of $2,630,000 thus far this week. This gain by the sub-treasury is due to the calling in of government deposits from the banks, and the money will be returned to the channels of the market as soon as the 2 per cent bonds, which have been recalled, are presented for redemption.

The bond market weakened in sympathy with stocks on a moderate volume of business. Total sales, par value, $1,195,000. United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Wheat was active Wednesday, and strong because of anxiety over the northwest crop situation and a reduction in the Ohio crop figures, July closing 1 1/4c over Tuesday. Corn closed 1/2c lower and oats a shade higher. Provisions thrived under a good outside demand and closed strong, a shade to 12 1/2c @ 15c improved.

NAVAL BILL UNDER CONTENTION.

House Reversed Its Conferrees, Who Had Agreed to Senate Amendments, and New Conferrees Were Chosen—Hot Political Debate in Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—When the house last night about 10:30 took a recess until 10 o'clock today the two chambers of the national legislature, with heads down and horns locked, were in a desperate struggle over the item in the naval appropriation bill relating to ocean surveys. The final adjournment of congress is postponed until it is over.

The proceedings in the house during the day were tame and without dramatic incident. This was partly due to the fact that the firm position taken by the house on the armor plate provision transferred the fight to the floor of the senate, and to the obstinate refusal of Mr. Lentz, an Ohio Democrat, to permit any unanimous consent legislation until the Republican leaders agreed to allow the testimony in the Couer d'Alene investigation to be printed. Mr. Lentz held the house by the throat all day, and except for privileged matters things legislative were at a standstill.

But last night there was enough excitement to compensate for the dullness of the day session. The house got its dander up over the failure of its conferrees to abide by their instructions on the ocean survey item and, after an exceedingly sensational debate, in which Mr. Cannon, the chairman of the appropriations committee, made some startling disclosures as to the manner in which Commander Todd, the hydrographer of the navy, had waged his campaign against the stand taken by the house in favor of the coast and geodetic survey doing ocean survey work, the house rejected the conference report by an overwhelming majority and the speaker took the almost unprecedented course of appointing new conferrees on the part of the house who are not members of the naval committee.

During the debate the conferrees defended their course as best they could, and Mr. Foss, acting chairman of the committee, resented with bitter language the charge that he had betrayed the house. Hot words were banded back and forth, but the house was in an ugly mood and was resolved to fight the senate to a finish.

The appointment as conferrees of Mr. Cannon, Mr. Moody and Mr. Shafroth, all of whom were in sympathy with the house's position, assured no surrender on their part until the house itself should direct them to yield.

It was a day of strife and turmoil in the senate. Early the conferrees on the naval bill reported a disagreement, and the senate was told plainly that the house would not consent to the amendment providing for an armor plate factory to be operated by the government.

A compromise proposition was presented by Mr. Penrose (Pa.) and, after hours of debate, finally was adopted by a vote of 39 to 35. The discussion of the proposition developed an unusual bitterness of feeling, and charges of robbery and corruption were hurled about the chamber with an abandon which, if they had not fallen from the lips of grave senators, would have been regarded as reckless. Little worse ever was heard in the heat of a political campaign.

Three o'clock, the hour agreed upon for final adjournment, was passed and still the senate wrestled with the armor question. When the Penrose proposition finally was agreed to, it was supposed the way was clear, but late last night another disagreement was reported on the naval bill, and the senate took an adjournment until 11 o'clock today.

Mr. Penrose's amendment was as follows:

That the secretary of the navy is hereby authorized to procure by contract armor of the best quality for any or all vessels above referred to, provided such contracts can be made at a price which, in his judgment, is reasonable and equitable, but in case he is unable to make contracts for armor under the above conditions, he is hereby authorized and directed to procure a site for and to erect thereon a factory for the manufacture of armor, and the sum of $4,000,000 is hereby appropriated toward the erection of a factory.

The evening session presented a brilliant scene, the galleries being thronged with a gay and fashionable assemblage. All were immensely entertained, as Senators Carter (Mon.), Mason (Ills.), Turley (Wash.) and Money (Miss.) kept the senate on edge with rattling political speeches.

PARIS, June 7.—A distinct honor to American womanhood is the election of Jane Addams, of Chicago, as president of the jury of social economy, at exposition.

CRITICAL IN CHINA.

INTERVENTION MAY BE NEEDED.

One Report Said Japan Prevented the Landing of Russian Troops—Another, That China Denied the Russian Minister Had Made Such an Offer.

LONDON, June 7.—Affairs in China are gradually working up a crisis of the first magnitude. The morning papers think that the British squadron is recognized as inferior in strength to the Russian, as well as to the Japanese. The Daily Telegraph says: "We regret that Great Britain is too much occupied in South Africa to settle the Chinese business with a strong hand."

It is reported that intervention in some form is necessary.

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, telegraphing yesterday, said in part:

"Not one Boxer has yet been arrested or punished. Anxiety is increasing regarding the fate of the missionaries at the various stations. At the meeting of the Tsung Li Yamen yesterday (Tuesday) the Japanese minister discussed the offer of M. de Giers, Russian minister, to give assistance of the Russian troops in quelling disturbances. The Tsung Li Yamen denied that the offer had been made, but Russia did make it and the Chinese government is quite capable of accepting such assistance."

The Pekin correspondent of The Times, in a long mail article, dated April 25, which deals with Russo-Japanese rivalry in the far east, expresses the opinion that war between the two powers is inevitable and that it cannot be long delayed because of Russia's immense Chinese designs and of the hatred the Japanese feel for Russia when they see her enjoying the fruits of Japan's victorious war to the detriment of Japan.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—In consequence of the representations of Japan, the landing of a large Russian force at Taku is alleged to have been stopped. It is believed here that should Russia persist in sending a preponderating military force to the front a collision with Japan will inevitably result.

Alarming reports are current here of the hurried completion of the mobilization of the Japanese.

The Russian minister at Pekin, M. de Giers, made another attempt to induce the Chinese foreign office to formally request Russian assistance to restore order, but the offer has not yet been accepted.

ANOTHER WARSHIP ORDERED TO CHINA.

A Gunboat to Be Sent Which Can Ascend the Pei-Ho River to Tsin.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Minister Conger cabled that the situation was worse at Pekin, and this statement, taken in connection with Admiral Kempff's alarming cablegram of the day before announcing that an engagement had been begun, had an effect on the state department. A cablegram was sent to Admiral Remy, at Manila, directing him to dispatch at once to Admiral Kempff's command the gunboat Helena, or if that craft was not at Manila and ready for immediate service, then some craft of correspondingly light draft and power. Admiral Kempff's flagship, the Newark, cannot ascend the river safely beyond the Taku forts, near the entrance, but the little Helena, drawing only 11 feet, can safely ascend to Tsin Tsin, 40 miles above. She was specially designed for service in these Chinese rivers. She carries a battery particularly adapted to dealing with such half organized mobs as the "Boxers." Besides her eight 4-inch rapid fire guns, she carries four six-pounder rapid fire guns, four one-pounder rapid fire guns, two Colts and one 3-inch rapid fire field gun.

WOMEN OUTRAGED.

Fearful Crime Charged to the Boxers, Aftersword Murdered the Husbands.

LONDON, June 7.—A special from Shanghai, dated June 6, said the members of the majority of the legations at Pekin, including the members of the British legation, were sending their families away. It is also said that several prominent Chinese residents are leaving the city.

There is an unconfirmed report that two Russian engineers have been murdered at Yu Chow Fu, northwest of Port

Arthur, after their wives had been outraged. The total damage done to the Chinese railroads by the Boxers is now estimated at $5,000,000.

FOUGHT WITH BOXERS.

Imperial Troops Said to Have Given Them Battle—Many Persons Were Killed on Both Sides.

SHANGHAI, June 7.—The soldiers dispatched to attack the Boxers have fought an engagement quite close to Pekin. Many were killed on both sides.

Violent dissensions are reported to exist between the Chinese commander-in-chief of the forces, Jung-Lu, and Prince Ching-Tuan, who, in accordance with the wishes of the dowager empress, is strongly supporting the cause of the Boxers.

The mobs who murdered the English missionaries, Robinson and Norman, mutilated and disemboweled the bodies. The station at Yan-Tin, about three miles from Pekin, was burned.

The British minister, Sir Claude M. MacDonald, was reported to be quite ill.

HOME MISSION SOCIETY.

The Seventy-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Congregational Organization. Women's Department Also Met.

DETROIT, June 7.—The first day's business sessions of the seventy-fourth annual meeting of the Congregational Home Mission society opened with the reading of a paper, entitled "Five Points," in which Rev. Washington Choate, D. D., secretary of the society, presented some of the salient features of the society's work.

General O. O. Howard, president of the society, followed with a brief energetic address.

Later, the eighteenth annual meeting of the woman's department of the Home Mission society was held. Miss Lydia Hartig, of Vermont, told "How We Solve the Problem in Rural New England." Mrs. James L. Hill, of Massachusetts, spoke on "Our Boys and the Future of Home Missions," and Rev. U. G. Pich, of North Dakota, related some of his "Frontier Experiences."

DEWEY ENTERTAINED.

Reunion of Old Soldiers and Sailors and Barbecue—Visited Deaf and Dumb Asylum.

COLUMBUS, June 7.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey were welcomed by a large crowd here.

During the morning hours a reunion of old soldiers and sailors was held at the Driving park, Mayor Swartz calling the assemblage to order and delivering an address of welcome.

About noon occurred the barbecue and carnival of sports, and the latter was in progress when Admiral Dewey arrived at the Driving park. After about an hour there the admiral returned to his hotel, stopping at the Deaf and Dumb institution, where a special program had been prepared. Last evening he attended a campfire and later the Press club smoker.

Pittsburgher Nominated For Vice President. NEW YORK, June 7.—The Socialist Labor party, in convention in this city, nominated Joseph F. Maloney, of Lynn, Mass., for president of the United States, and Val Rammel, of Pittsburgh, for vice president.

EVENTS BRIEFLY NARRATED.

Missouri Democrats nominated Dockery for governor.

Idaho Democratic convention selected a delegation friendly to Governor Steunenberg.

Thomas Norton, Ohio, confirmed as consul, at Harput, Turkey.

President McKinley was at the capitol and signed some of the bills passed.

A movement to organize national negro political party started, at Philadelphia.

General Wheeler will be given no military assignment under his commission of brigadier general of regulars, but will be placed on the retired list for age within the next few days.

Lawrence Lord, Fairview, Erie county, Pa., found on Philadelphia street, skull fractured. Died in hospital. Foul play suspected.

Idaho Democrats endorsed Bryan and Lewis for national ticket.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Ohio, Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia.—Showers and probably thunderstorms today; tomorrow fair and cooler; high southerly, shifting to westerly winds.

HOLT THE NOMINEE.

Heads the Democratic Ticket in West Virginia.

A LIVELY CONVENTION HELD.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., June 7.—The Democratic convention here held three sessions. The third session was an all night performance. Neither parliamentary rules nor those of force could preserve order. When the last session began there was nothing to do except adopt the reports on credentials and resolutions and there was no opposition to either report, so that nominating speeches were soon begun for the nomination of governor. The hall had been packed for favorites, and when the drift was tending their way these outsiders resorted to all sorts of disturbances. It was almost midnight before order was restored.

In the midst of this uproar and confusion the vote was disputed and changes were made indiscriminately and endlessly. Finally there was a second call of the counties for changes only when the vote of Flourney and Lewis changed either to Holt or Tavenner, the former getting the best of the changes, as Tavenner was the leader at the end of the first call of the counties.

Judge Holt was nominated for governor. He is a prominent attorney and was on the ticket for the supreme bench four years. He is 40 years old and a brilliant speaker. He made a most stirring speech of acceptance, after which the convention adjourned at 12:20 a. m. until 10 a. m. today.

The platform adopted endorsed Bryan and the Chicago platform, and pledged support to the Kansas City ticket and platform. It denounced trusts, imperialism, the Porto Rican tariff, the Philippine war, militarism, the recent financial act of congress, the increase of the standing army and the administrations of President McKinley and Governor Atkinson. Sympathy was expressed with the Boers, the Nicaragua canal was strongly favored, and a strong resolution was adopted against recognizing the old Virginia debt in any form.

TO PRAY AT THE CONVENTION.

Baptist Minister, About 80 Years Old, Selected For Philadelphia Gathering.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Rev. Edward H. Levy, D. D., of this city, received official notification of his selection as chaplain to the national Republican convention. The information came in a communication from Chairman Hanna, of the national committee. When Dr. Levy will have fulfilled his offices he will bear the unique distinction of having acted as chaplain of two Republican national conventions, 44 years apart. Dr. Levy, in 1856, acted as chaplain of the Fremont convention, held in this city at Musical Fundehall.

He is a Baptist clergyman and is about 80 years of age.

Bryan and Chicago Platform Endorsed by Indiana Democrats.

INDIANAPOLIS, June 7.—The Democratic state convention nominated John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, for governor and a full state ticket.

The platform, as presented, endorsed William Jennings Bryan for the presidency, reaffirmed the Chicago platform and omitted mention of the ratio of 16 to 1. Its reading was followed by a burst of tumultuous approval and the platform was adopted unanimously.

Delegates Instructed For Bryan.

Three Killed by a Train.

NEW YORK, June 7.—Three men were killed by being run over by a passenger train on the Long Island railroad, near Laurel Hill, L. I. They were Matthew Clark, aged 42, laborer; Daniel Halpin, age 22, and Patrick Ryan, age 42, single. The men were walking on the track when struck.

British Captured by Boers.

MAZERU, Basutoland, June 7.—A trooper of Brabant's horse said that Boers took 54 British prisoners, including an officer, whom they released conditionally. The officer estimated that the Boer forces between Ficksburg and Bethlehem numbered 6,000 men.

A Rise in Jersey Central Owing to Rumors of Control by the Baltimore and Ohio.

NEW YORK, June 7.—About midway of Wednesday's session of the Stock Exchange there was a rise of 3 points in New Jersey Central on rumors of control by Baltimore and Ohio. This incident offered an isolated feature of strength in Wednesday's market and caused the only brief respite from the mood of depression which prevailed all day. The most effective single factor was the warlike development in China.

News of the domestic iron trade was confused, reports of declining prices being mingled with reports of reopening of some mills recently closed down. Tennessee Coal was the weakest of the Steel group and lost 2 1/4. In the general list prices were weak throughout, but stocks which have shown some strength recently were most affected. Atchison preferred, St. Paul, Baltimore and Ohio, Union Pacific and Louisville were examples.

There is growing uneasiness in speculative circles over the prospects of the wheat crop, based upon the low condition reported Wednesday from Ohio and the continued drought in the northwest. The convening of the joint passenger committee in this city and the meeting today of railroad presidents to attempt an adjustment of the rate disturbances calls attention to that source of danger to values of railroad securities. The money market continues almost unprecedentedly easy, in spite of the taking up by the sub-treasury from the banks of $2,630,000 thus far this week. This gain by the sub-treasury is due to the calling in of government deposits from the banks, and the money will be returned to the channels of the market as soon as the 2 per cent bonds, which have been recalled, are presented for redemption.

The bond market weakened in sympathy with stocks on a moderate volume of business. Total sales, par value, $1,195,000. United States bonds were unchanged in bid quotations.

Chicago Grain and Provisions.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Wheat was active Wednesday, and strong because of anxiety over the northwest crop situation and a reduction in the Ohio crop figures. July closing 1 1/4c over Tuesday. Corn closed 1/8c lower and oats a shade higher. Provisions thrived under a shade outside demand and closed strong, a shade to 12 1/2c @ 15c improved.

CONGRESS DISAGREED.

Deadlock Prevented Adjournment at Appointed Time.

NAVAL BILL UNDER CONTENTION.

House Reversed Its Conferrees, Who Had Agreed to Senate Amendments, and New Conferrees Were Chosen—Hot Political Debate in Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—When the house last night about 10:30 took a recess until 10 o'clock today the two chambers of the national legislature, with heads down and horns locked, were in a desperate struggle over the item in the naval appropriation bill relating to ocean surveys. OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

COPYRIGHT BY THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTORY.

Two great epochs in the history of the vast empire lying west of the Allegheny range, and north of the Ohio river, were the Ordinance of 1787, erecting the Northwest Territory, and the Constitution of 1802, adding the eighteenth state to the Union.

The first marked the history of a colony of almost boundless resources and possibilities; the second, the genesis of a commonwealth which added lustre to civilization and progress from the hour of its nativity.

The threatened deterioration of our political system of representative self-government was checked when the founders of Ohio launched the new commonwealth on the sea of political activity and progressive republican thought and achievement.

The Ordinance of 1788 was an inspiration. The state of Ohio was the fulfillment of the prophecy it contained. The congested and dwarfed thought of the original states, not yet beyond the enervating shadow of European systems, corrugated with the dehumanizing prejudices and superstitions of centuries, running back to the Dark Ages, found a new and generous field in which to develop and expand, quickly reflecting its broader thought, loftier hope and aspiration and more exalted ideals, eastward to the Atlantic, while it carried the standard of the higher civilization to and across the Father of Waters, over the lofty peaks of the Sierras, and planted it in triumph upon the zephyr-kissed shores of the Pacific.

One by one new stars came out to join the lustrous procession of the eighteenth, till they clustered in splendor from the headwaters of the Ohio to the northern lakes, and thence to the Golden Gate and the Rio Grande. Ohio has indeed been great in all that goes to make up the real greatness of a free commonwealth.

Her sons and daughters may well be proud of her record, which forms an epic, grander than any classic page—prouder than the annals of all preceding empires.

Her founders came fresh from the fields and fires of the Revolution, imbued with lofty purposes and noble ambitions; instinct with prophecy, and militant in the religion of humanity.

Like tiny rivulets they came coursing through the gaps of the Appalachian range from its northern extremity southward to the where its blue peaks smiled to the tepid waters of the gulf stream—a new Trojan pilgrimage, charmed and inspired with the descriptions of daring traders and men and women returning from barbarian captivity, of a new world more splendid than Plato's dream—of a Paradise that only awaited the pruning hand of civilization to make it the premier diamond in the matchless crown of the young republic.

As time passed these tiny streams grew into a mighty river of onrushing humanity, before whose influence the forests melted away and the log cabin, the farmhouse, the hamlet, the town and then the city, rose like genii responsive to the wand of the magician.

Noble Women and Patriotic Men.

And what noble and heroic women, and strong, patriotic men they were! In their religion there were no creeds but humanity and the love of liberty, and in the homes they reared, fidelity, helpful love and filial piety and respect were the guardian cherubim of the never dying morality with which the foundations of the state were cemented.

The herald roll of names that graced the four decades following 1788 would take precedence over the roster of the Golden Age or the Blue Book of the foremost kingdom of all time.

What Ohio is today she owes to the fathers and mothers, who reared a race of men and taught them to put duty before convenience and write principle in a lexicon where no such word as policy, the polite substitute for diplomacy, chicane and mendacity, was to be found.

In 1803 Ohio had a population of 47,000 and stood eighteenth in the order of the sisterhood of states. In 1840 she stood third in population and all the elements of greatness. In 1890, through the genius of the census taker, Illinois was temporarily given her station, but in 1900, when her original population will be multiplied by 100, she proposes to take her place once more.

Not only has she multiplied her population by 100 in less than a century, but her wealth by 250, and annually spends for common school education more than 150 times the total state revenues in 1803.

She was born a quarter of a century after the immortal declaration and rescript of our liberties, but in the second war of independence, when a little

miss of but 10 summers, she furnished 20,000 heroic soldiers of all arms in the war of 1812, and the hostilities leading immediately thereto—more than one-fifth of all the soldiers of the Union, who made Old Glory's title clear to the New World in that memorable struggle.

She sent 5,500 men to hew the way from the Rio Grande to the Halls of the Montezumas, in 1846, and was ready to multiply that number by 10 had there been a necessity.

In the great civil war, when the Republic passed the final fiery test, she set her squadrons, numbering 340,000, afire in the forefront of battle, one-seventh of all the armies, one in seven of her population, one-half her sons of the military age, and of these one in 14 died as the soldier dier, on the field of battle or in the groaning hospital.

In the Spanish-American war, ere the bugle call to arms had ceased to reverberate through her hills and valleys and across her green and waving fields, she tendered to the government 16,900 soldiers, 2,000 in excess of her allotment, while 100,000 of her patriotic young and middle-aged men appealed in vain to be enrolled in the country's service.

Four citizens of the state have been chosen president—five presidents born upon her fruitful soil. In camp and military council she has been nobly represented by the foremost military chieftains of the century. In the senate, in congress, in the cabinet, on the bench and in the department of state her statesmen, jurists and diplomats have been second to none.

Her sons not only founded this great state, but, leading the march of progress, founded colonies which grew into states from the source of the Mississippi to its junction with the Ohio, and thence west and northwest and southwest, across the trackless, arid plains to and over the Sierras, through the modulated foothills and broad savannas to the Golden Gate of the Pacific, and the threshold of the occident, until, from a score of mighty commonwealths, they sit in the nation's councils untutored in sycophancy and intrigue; unlearned in the cold indifference of selfishness and chicane, but robust in American manhood, and as frank and open as the sunlight and the wind that ripen and sway the harvests in fields as countless as the stars, and as beautiful as they.

We read with pardonable native pride on every page of current history of the distinguished positions in art and literature and law and theology and science and politics and economics, held by the sons and daughters of Ohio, not in Ohio alone, but in almost every state and almost every city in the Union. And as long as their generations emulate the virtues of their illustrious ancestry, the star of our civilization will shine in the zenith, as shone the Star of Bethlehem above the rim of the orient, to usher in the natal day of Him who broke the manacles of Creed and opened the gates of Paradise to the poor and humble as well as to the opulent and powerful.

We are twitted about the "Ohio Idea" sometimes, but will the jesters tell us whence came any of the great ideas moulded into the policy of the nation during the past half century, but from the fertile and versatile soil of Ohio? It was an Ohioan who, at the beginning of the war, evolved a financial system which kept the countless battalions afire until the integrity of the Union was put beyond cavil. It was an Ohio man, who as the minister of war, directed the mighty operations of these battalions. It was an Ohio man who led them through the bitter struggle and the final triumph. It was an Ohio man whose legions swept from Atlanta to the sea, delivering to the Confederacy its first fatal blow—a blow that reached to the apple tree at Appomattox, where an Ohio man exemplified Ohio's great ideas by sending the captured Confederates home, unshackled freemen, his very act kindling in their hearts the fires of loyalty and patriotism which long since burned out all hatreds and prejudices.

Franklin, a Massachusetts man, chained the lightning, but he was a dangerous giant, and his utility problematic, until Edison, an Ohio man, more than a century later, tamed him and revolutionized the world—turning night into day with his brilliant rays and setting an empire's machinery in motion with his resistless and silent power. These things are not the result of a mere accident. They result from a clearly defined cause. They are the natural result of a virile and a broad-based civilization, springing into activity and power, here within the confines of Ohio, and in strict conformity with natural, moral and physical laws.

Read of the founding of the ancient states, and the elemental constituents were as naught compared with that of Ohio. A single race or a single sect made up the founders of the ancient state. There was no combining and affiliation of strong elements, which became stronger and better by the union. No empire or state mentioned in history embraced so many elements at its birth, and during its early growth, as Ohio. In the sunset of the seventeenth and the morning of the eighteenth centuries, a few intermittent heralds and pursuivants of the coming civilization came into and crossed some portion of the Miami valley, blazing the future march of empire, and startling the puny civilization of Europe with their wonderful narratives, but not until the close of the revolutionary epoch did the tide of venture-some civilization rise to the Appalachian summits and trickle down into the Ohio basin in forceful streams, constantly fed and constantly augmented by those whose gaze was fixed upon the evening star.

They comprised the children of every family of the Aryan race—all the strongest elements of European civilization. Celt and Gaul; Pict and Scot; Saxon, Dane, Norman and Briton; Teuton and Latin; Roundhead, Cavalier, Huguenot and Puritan; Covenanters and Dissenter; Calvinist and Lutheran; Catholic and Protestant, they marched abreast under the single banner of civilization, and gave the first exemplification not of the right alone, but of the practice of worshipping God according to the dictates of their own conscience, while each respected his fellow who followed the same practice.

Think of these varying elements and the remote generations from which they had descended. Some from the dwellers of ancient Memphis and from the artisans of the Pyramids. Others dated back to the events of the Roman empire, or to Marathon, or Thermopylae. Still others could trace their lineage to the heroes of Cressy, Poitiers, Agincourt or Flodden. All were strong family types, proud and independent spirits, fretting against the debasing environments of European monarchy slowly evolving from a rapidly disappearing feudalism, and seeking in the new world an asylum, for the promised land where the new political birth was destined to challenge the wonder and admiration of the nations, and life up the proud standard of individual manhood and sovereignty.

These diverse, or seemingly diverse human elements, speedily blended and commingled, forming a splendid composite type, the grandest of the nineteenth century, and one which will put its impress upon all the decades of the twentieth. The whole was better and greater than any of its individual parts. The new type was grander, and of infinitely greater proportion, than

OHIO IN CONGRESS FROM 1803 TO 1901.

COPYRIGHT BY THE AUTHOR.

INTRODUCTORY.

Two great epochs in the history of the vast empire lying west of the Allegheny range, and north of the Ohio river, were the Ordinance of 1787, erecting the Northwest Territory, and the Constitution of 1802, adding the eighteenth state to the Union.

The first marked the history of a colony of almost boundless resources and possibilities; the second, the genesis of a commonwealth which added lustre to civilization and progress from the hour of its nativity.

The threatened deterioration of our political system of representative self-government was checked when the founders of Ohio launched the new commonwealth on the sea of political activity and progressive republican thought and achievement.

The Ordinance of 1788 was an inspiration. The state of Ohio was the fulfillment of the prophecy it contained. The congested and dwarfed thought of the original states, not yet beyond the enervating shadow of European systems, corrugated with the dehumanizing prejudices and superstitions of centuries, running back to the Dark Ages, found a new and generous field in which to develop and expand, quickly reflecting its broader thought, loftier hope and aspiration and more exalted ideals, eastward to the Atlantic, while it carried the standard of the higher civilization to and across the Father of Waters, over the lofty peaks of the Sierras, and planted it in triumph upon the zephyr-kissed shores of the Pacific.

One by one new stars came out to join the lustrous procession of the eighteenth, till they clustered in splendor from the headwaters of the Ohio to the northern lakes, and thence to the Golden Gate and the Rio Grande. Ohio has indeed been great in all that goes to make up the real greatness of a free commonwealth.

Her sons and daughters may well be proud of her record, which forms an epic, grander than any classic page—prouder than the annals of all preceding empires.

Her founders came fresh from the fields and fires of the Revolution, imbued with lofty purposes and noble ambitions; instinct with prophecy, and militant in the religion of humanity.

Like tiny rivulets they came coursing through the gaps of the Appalachian range from its northern extremity southward to the where its blue peaks smiled to the tepid waters of the gulf stream—a new Trojan pilgrimage, charmed and inspired with the descriptions of daring traders and men and women returning from barbarian captivity, of a new world more splendid than Plato's dream—of a Paradise that only awaited the pruning hand of civilization to make it the premier diamond in the matchless crown of the young republic.

As time passed these tiny streams grew into a mighty river of onrushing humanity, before whose influence the forests melted away and the log cabin, the farmhouse, the hamlet, the town and then the city, rose like genii responsive to the wand of the magician.

Noble Women and Patriotic Men.

And what noble and heroic women, and strong, patriotic men they were! In their religion there were no creeds but humanity and the love of liberty, and in the homes they reared, fidelity, helpful love and filial piety and respect were the guardian cherubim of the never dying morality with which the foundations of the state were cemented.

The herald roll of names that graced the four decades following 1788 would take precedence over the roster of the Golden Age or the Blue Book of the foremost kingdom of all time.

What Ohio is today she owes to the fathers and mothers, who reared a race of men and taught them to put duty before convenience and write principle in a lexicon where no such word as policy, the polite substitute for diplomacy, chicane and mendacity, was to be found.

In 1803 Ohio had a population of 47,000 and stood eighteenth in the order of the sisterhood of states. In 1840 she stood third in population and all the elements of greatness. In 1890, through the genius of the census taker, Illinois was temporarily given her station, but in 1900, when her original population will be multiplied by 100, she proposes to take her place once more.

Not only has she multiplied her population by 100 in less than a century, but her wealth by 250, and annually spends for common school education more than 150 times the total state revenues in 1803.

She was born a quarter of a century after the immortal declaration and rescript of our liberties, but in the second war of independence, when a little

miss of but 10 summers, she furnished 20,000 heroic soldiers of all arms in the war of 1812, and the hostilities leading immediately thereto—more than one-fifth of all the soldiers of the Union, who made Old Glory's title clear to the New World in that memorable struggle.

She sent 5,500 men to hew the way from the Rio Grande to the Halls of the Montezumas, in 1846, and was ready to multiply that number by 10 had there been a necessity.

In the great civil war, when the Republic passed the final fiery test, she set her squadrons, numbering 340,000, afield in the forefront of battle, one-seventh of all the armies, one in seven of her population, one-half her sons of the military age, and of these one in 14 died as the soldier died, on the field of battle or in the groaning hospital.

In the Spanish-American war, ere the bugle call to arms had ceased to reverberate through her hills and valleys and across her green and waving fields, she tendered to the government 16,900 soldiers, 2,000 in excess of her allotment, while 100,000 of her patriotic young and middle-aged men appealed in vain to be enrolled in the country's service.

Four citizens of the state have been chosen president—five presidents born upon her fruitful soil. In camp and military council she has been nobly represented by the foremost military chieftains of the century. In the senate, in congress, in the cabinet, on the bench and in the department of state her statesmen, jurists and diplomats have been second to none.

Her sons not only founded this great state, but, leading the march of progress, founded colonies which grew into states from the source of the Mississippi to its junction with the Ohio, and thence west and northwest and southwest, across the trackless, arid plains to and over the Sierras, through the modulated foothills and broad savannas to the Golden Gate of the Pacific, and the threshold of the occident, until, from a score of mighty commonwealths, they sit in the nation's councils untutored in sycophancy and intrigue; unlearned in the cold indifference of selfishness and chicane, but robust in American manhood, and as frank and open as the sunlight and the wind that ripen and sway the harvests in fields as countless as the stars, and as beautiful as they.

We are twitted about the "Ohio Idea" sometimes, but will the jesters tell us whence came any of the great ideas moulded into the policy of the nation during the past half century, but from the fertile and versatile soil of Ohio? It was an Ohioan who, at the beginning of the war, evolved a financial system which kept the countless battalions afield until the integrity of the Union was put beyond cavil. It was an Ohio man, who as the minister of war, directed the mighty operations of these battalions. It was an Ohio man who led them through the bitter struggle and the final triumph. It was an Ohio man whose legions swept from Atlanta to the sea, delivering to the Confederacy its first fatal blow—a blow that reached to the apple tree at Appomattox, where an Ohio man exemplified Ohio's great ideas by sending the captured Confederates home, unshackled freemen, his very act kindling in their hearts the fires of loyalty and patriotism which long since burned out all hatreds and prejudices.

Franklin, a Massachusetts man, chained the lightning, but he was a dangerous giant, and his utility problematic, until Edison, an Ohio man, more than a century later, tamed him and revolutionized the world—turning night into day with his brilliant rays and setting an empire's machinery in motion with his resistless and silent power. These things are not the result of a mere accident. They result from a clearly defined cause. They are the natural result of a virile and a broad-based civilization, springing into activity and power, here within the confines of Ohio, and in strict conformity with natural, moral and physical laws.

Read of the founding of the ancient states, and the elemental constituents were as naught compared with that of Ohio. A single race or a single sect made up the founders of the ancient state. There was no combining and affiliation of strong elements, which became stronger and better by the union. No empire or state mentioned in history embraced so many elements at its birth, and during its early growth, as Ohio. In the sunset of the seventeenth and the morning of the eighteenth centuries, a few intermittent heralds and pursuivants of the coming civilization came into and crossed some portion of the Miami valley, blazing the future march of empire, and startling the puny civilization of Europe with their wonderful narratives, but not until the close of the revolutionary epoch did the tide of venture-some civilization rise to the Appalachian summits and trickle down into the Ohio basin in forceful streams, constantly fed and constantly augmented by those whose gaze was fixed upon the evening star.

Notice of Sale of Bonds.

East Liverpool, O., May 23, 1900.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until Monday, the 25th day of June, 1900, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purchase of 105 bonds of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, bearing date the 1st day of July, 1900, and payable forty (40) years from said date, but redeemable at any time after twenty (20) years from said date at the option of said city, each bond being for the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars and bearing interest at the rate of four (4) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding certain indebtedness, water works bonds, which, from its limit of taxation, said city is unable to pay, and in pursuance of section 2701 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and of an ordinance, No. 635, passed the 8th day of May, 1900, authorizing their issue.

Bidders will be required to state in writing and in figures, the gross amount they will pay for the bonds bid for in addition to the accrued interest at the date of delivery, and no bid will be accepted for less than par and accrued interest at the date of delivery.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check on some National Bank, in the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, payable to the order of the city clerk of the said city, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted the bonds will be promptly paid for when delivered.

The city council reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

All proposals should be addressed to

East Liverpool, O., May 23, 1900.

Sealed proposals will be received at this office until Monday, the 25th day of June, 1900, at 12 o'clock, m., for the purchase of 105 bonds of the city of East Liverpool, Ohio, bearing date the 1st day of July, 1900, and payable forty (40) years from said date, but redeemable at any time after twenty (20) years from said date at the option of said city, each bond being for the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars and bearing interest at the rate of four (4) per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Said bonds are issued for the purpose of refunding certain indebtedness, water works bonds, which, from its limit of taxation, said city is unable to pay, and in pursuance of section 2701 of the revised statutes of the state of Ohio, and of an ordinance, No. 635, passed the 8th day of May, 1900, authorizing their issue.

Bidders will be required to state in writing and in figures, the gross amount they will pay for the bonds bid for in addition to the accrued interest at the date of delivery, and no bid will be accepted for less than par and accrued interest at the date of delivery.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check on some National Bank, in the sum of one thousand ($1,000) dollars, payable to the order of the city clerk of the said city, as a guarantee that if the bid is accepted the bonds will be promptly paid for when delivered.

The city council reserves the right to accept or reject any and all bids.

All proposals should be addressed to

J. N. HANLEY,
City Clerk.
